ATHENS OHIO

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

The Editors of the 1928 Athena have endeavored to portray in this volume the spirit and motive that, we trust, prevail at Ohio University-- self-controlled, self-directed freedom.

All human beings start in life entirely under external control and authority. The problem of Education is to provide for them such environment, guidance, and instruction as will enable them quickly and successfully to realize their inherent rights to self-discovery, self-development, and self-expression, and thus to pass from outer to inner control.

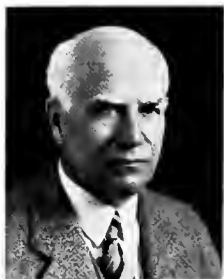

Only the Divine can bring the dead to life; but men and institutions can "loose him and let him go," can set him free.

To remove the grave clothes of ignorance and its consequent passions that kill and destroy, to make men free is the actuating motive in Ohio University.

It is gratifying to note that the Editors of the Athena appreciate this and have made it the dominating idea in this volume.

I congratulate the staff on the beautiful and comprehensive way that this pervading motive and spirit of the University have been set forth.

College of Liberal Arts

HE aim of a College of Liberal Arts is to give one "an intellectual grasp on human experience." To have an acquaintance with the civilization of the past and the present, to understand the sciences that have made man the master of the earth and sky, to know the things of nature and the nature of things, to appreciate the arts that feed the soul with beauty—these are the qualities, the powers, the possessions of the liberally educated man.

Whatever theories one may have in regard to the purpose of a college education, he is likely to agree that in an atmosphere of intellectual freedom college life should prepare "for effective participation as a responsible adult in the world in which he lives, and for going on with the task of self-understanding, self-government, and self-development in the life that now is, and for the life that is to come."

The student is advised to defer specializing until after he has had two years of college life. Thus by arranging the studies in four groups and by requiring a minimum from each group, it is hoped that the danger of narrowness of culture has been avoided; while by requiring a maximum in one group it is expected that the student will have opportunity to develop power by intensive study of closely related subjects.

The studies have been included in four groups. These groups are:

- (A) LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE
English, Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, Italian, German, Fine Arts, and Music.
- (B) NATURAL SCIENCES
Astronomy, Biology, Botany, Chemistry, Geology, Physiology, Physics, and Geography.
- (C) SOCIAL SCIENCES
History, Government, Economics, Commerce and Sociology.
- (D) PHILOSOPHY AND MATHEMATICS
Philosophy, Psychology, Mathematics, Logic, and Education.

Dr. Edwin W. Chubb as head of the College of Liberal Arts has contributed as much or more to the academic standards of Ohio than any other man. Consistently, throughout his long term of service, he has been the advocate of high standards of scholarship. His loyalty to the University is coupled with a secret silent devotion to his students, who remember him long afterward for the length of his service and the breadth of his sympathy.

College of Education

T. C. McGRAW
Dean

HE College of Education of Ohio University is a vocational school devoted to the preparation of young men and women for the teaching profession. Courses in academic and professional subjects are designed for the preparation of teachers for city and rural elementary schools, high schools and colleges. School administrators, supervisors, critic teachers, and teachers of special subjects are prepared for their work in the field of education.

The College of Education stands for the slogan of the National Education Association, "A competent, well-trained teacher, in accord with American ideals, in every public school in the United States." Competent teachers can be trained only when high standards of scholarship and of service are set up and maintained. It is the purpose of the College of Education of Ohio University to send out as teachers those who are efficient and capable, ready to serve the best interests of humanity. By so doing it hopes to perform the duty laid upon it by the state, by whose authority and support it exists, in order that the youth of the great Commonwealth of Ohio may be lifted to a high level of education and to a noble citizenship.

The College of Education offers four-year courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education, and two-year courses, each leading to a diploma. The degree of Master of Arts is granted to worthy candidates who have completed the requirements for the advanced degree.

The degrees, and all diplomas are accepted by the State Department of Education for the granting of four-year provisional certificates when all the requirements of the State Department of Education have been met. These certificates may be converted into life certificates after twenty four months of successful teaching experience following graduation.

The student, in the College of Education, may select as his major any of the academic subjects usually taught in high school. Excellent four-year courses are maintained in the following special subjects: Art, Commerce, Home Economics, Industrial Education, Physical Education, and School Music. Several four-year courses for the training of elementary teachers have been inaugurated and are being favorably received. They are for kindergarten, primary, intermediate grade, and junior high school teachers as well as for teachers of special education.

Dean of Women

FROM the days of the old-time preceptres who nursed sick bodies and "ministered to minds diseased," in the small groups of girls who came under her care, the office of Dean of Women has had an ever important place in our colleges and universities.

The office of Dean of Women at Ohio University takes on a two-fold aspect. She is an administrative officer who keeps in touch with the hundreds of girls under her, and who maintains successful co-operation with chaperones and house-mothers that they may function wisely and well.

Excepting not even the President of the University, there is no work more important, no position more responsible, than that of Miss Irma E. Voigt, Dean of Women. The work of directing the academic efforts of the students is of course important, but students cannot learn and grow and benefit from their educational surroundings unless living under favorable physical and social conditions. It is the duty of Dean Voigt to see that these conditions are favorable—which is no easy task.

Alumni Secretary

THE Ohio University Alumni Association was incorporated under the laws of the State of Ohio in July, 1872. It had a loose form and organization for several years prior to this year, there being a record of a meeting, in 1853, of "the early Students and Alumni of Ohio University," called by A. G. Brown for "the purposes of a social reunion and rendering homage due to their Alma Mater."

The organized efforts of the Alumni Association in the early days, and until comparatively recently, were largely directed and carried on by part-time secretaries who were greatly handicapped by a lack of time, funds, and administrative co-operation. This condition prevailed until 1922 when the present Alumni Secretary, Mr. Clark E. Williams, was elected through joint action of the University trustees and the alumni organization.

SENIORS

Class of 1928

O the Seniors of 1928 is given the honor of membership in a graduating class which is the largest in the history of Ohio University. According to the Registrar, the number of graduating students this year far exceeds that of the Class of 1927.

These "brave and haughty" Seniors reigned supreme for three days, June 10, 11, and 12, after they had attended their last class and listened to their final lecture. Three days of class reunions, of the Baccalaureate Sermon, and lastly, the memorable Commencement Day, June 12, when the Seniors received their coveted diplomas. An immense crowd was at hand to greet the graduating Seniors and to make this annual Commencement more auspicious than any of its predecessors.

In looking backward over the record of their achievements during four years of college life, members of the Class of 1928 can refer with pride to a consistency of effort rather than to any particularly notable deeds. Throughout the successive years of their stay at Ohio, they entered into their various class activities with a wholehearted enthusiasm which put aside all obstacles. To the Seniors of 1928, we say: "Hail and Farewell."

Senior Farewell

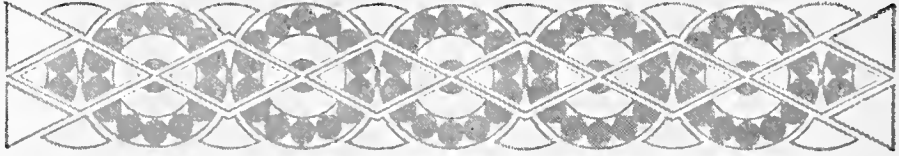

DIGNIFIED Seniors. More dignified than ever before. With an attitude of having at last come to the end of a work well-done, yet wistful that they were now leaving the doors of their Alma Mater, ready to go forth to fight the world alone, the Class of 1928 began their last exercises as undergraduates on May 16, Senior Day. On this day, set aside as the one day when all else is forgotten, the entire school honors those who will soon depart for greater fields of accomplishment.

And then came the final three days, June 10, 11 and 12, after the members of the Class had prepared their last lesson, and attended their final class, when they were to receive the coveted diplomas. They were three glorious days, filled with picnics, Class Reunions, the Baccalaureate Sermon, and lastly, the crowning day of all, Commencement Day. A memorial day it was, the one which the Class of 1928 will not soon forget.

JUNIORS

WHILE sharing with the dignified Seniors the distinction of being upper-class men and women, the members of the Junior class, by reason of several outstanding achievements, set an example this year which succeeding third year classes will find hard to duplicate.

This year, for the first time in the history of the University, Juniors published the yearbook. In attempting to depict the life and activities on the campus today, as well as the life found here in days gone by, the staff, composed largely of Juniors, has striven to give the student body a truly pictorial history of Ohio University.

The Juniors again lived up to their live-wire reputation in sponsoring "the Prom of 1928." The task of "reselling" the prom to the student body rested in the hands of the committee. This they accomplished in a noteworthy fashion. The Prom Queen, Miss "Ohio" was indeed stately and gorgeous, her subjects vieing with each other in dancing in her honor.

In athletics, as in all other student projects, the Juniors have consistently carried their portion of the responsibility. To say that they have been the outstanding leaders of the University is an exaggeration, but to say that they entered each project with sincerity and vim, and a determination to do their best, is adequate. More sincere praise cannot be given any class.

The Junior Prom

N an attempt to give the students and friends of Ohio University a Junior Prom never before equalled in the history of the school, the Prom Committee, representing the majority of groups and interests on the campus, set to work at the first of the year to perfect the plans that culminated in the Prom which surpassed their fondest hopes and aspirations; one which coming third year classes will find it hard to surpass.

Many novel and entirely new and interesting features were the passwords of the evening. The decorations were of unusual quality, featuring a Japanese design, with a large center crystal, which threw a myriad of subdued light and color to all parts of the large gymnasium. Two colored bands of national fame furnished the music—and what music it was. Each tried to out-do the other, and it was thought for some time that each were to succeed.

Of course the main event of the evening was the crowning of Miss Ohio—the most popular and most representative girl of Ohio University. This honor fell to Miss Mariana Bing. Showered with flowers and gifts of all descriptions which were presented her by the merchants of Athens, she was truly the most honored queen of the occasion.

All hail the Junior and the Prom Committee, and may their work shine as a glaring example for the other Prom Committees that are to come.

SOPHOMORES

Class of 1930

T was a hard year for the Freshmen. At least, it seemed that way and the Sophomores tried hard enough to make it that way. Although the second year men did not start the season with the usual bang, it was not long before they began their activities against the yearlings, and then woe betide the unlucky Frosh who failed to wear his green top piece. Matters grew steadily worse, until the day of the annual Frosh-Soph Scrap when the two factions undertook to settle the matter once and for all.

After the antagonism and "friendly hatred" of that day had passed the Sophomores decided to try to make some arrangements whereby there would be some definite organization whose duty would be "to work co-operately in an effort to successfully assimilate the first year men to college life and college problems." This was the beginning of a Sophomore Honor Society which it is hoped will be a potent force in future years in the regulation of Freshman activities.

Raymond Singer was elected president of the Class of 1930, and his leadership was in a large way responsible for the business-like manner in which the Sophomores managed class affairs and extra-curricular activities. Other officers were Glenn Cole, vice-president; Margaret Schick, secretary; and Kenneth Coulter, treasurer. The zeal of these leaders was typical of the entire class.

The Sophomores

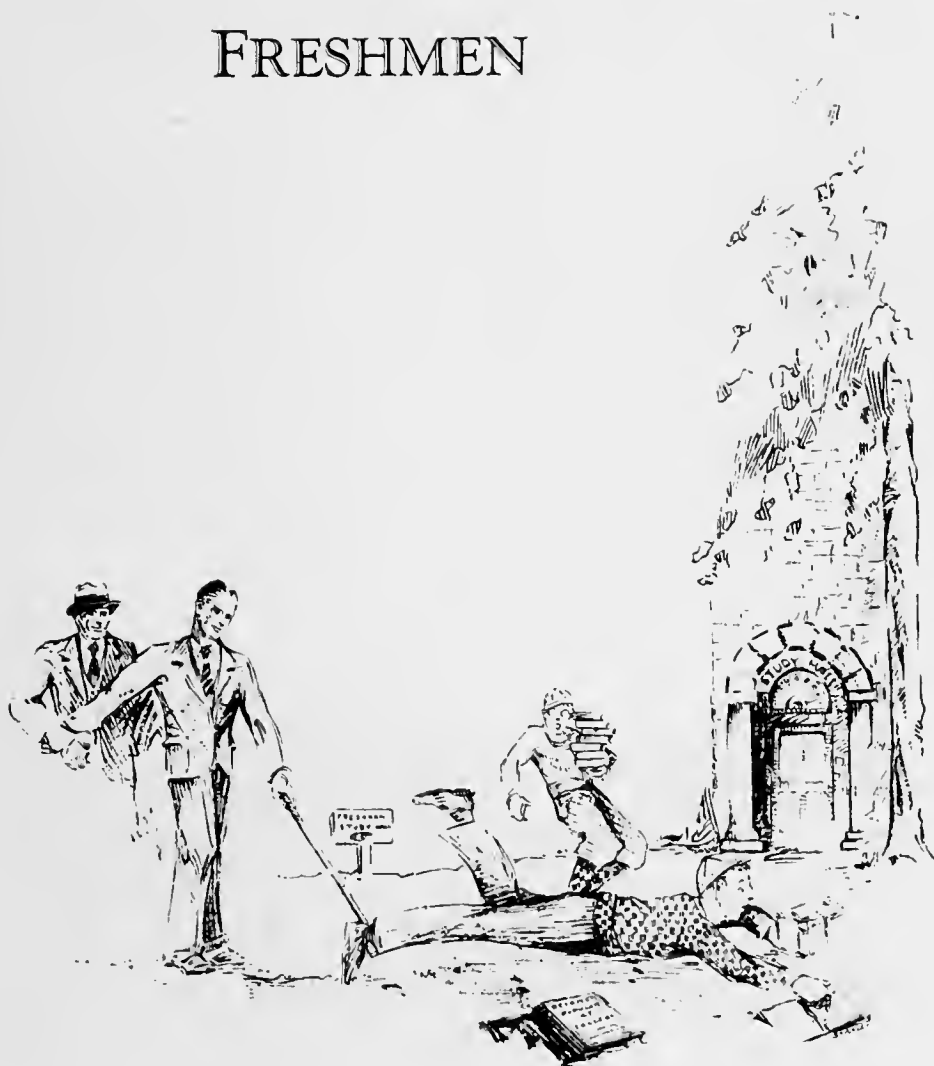

N looking backward over the past school year, we must turn a rather respectful eye to the Class of 1930. Although they have no particularly notable deeds to their credit, they have tried to be a class ever mindful of their standing, and ever ready to carry out their share of campus activities and campus problems.

This year, as in years gone by, the most important function of the Class as a whole was the supervision of the activities and "actions" of the Freshmen. As is always the case, this has been a rather difficult task, and one which merits the consideration which the Sophomores have given to it. Yes, it is a hard task, but one which was capably handled by the second year men.

It was this class who succeeded last year in pulling the Class of 1929 through the lake. Thus, starting with such activities and a natural inclination to do things, the Sophomores have, through two years of college life, made a name for themselves which coming classes will find hard to beat.

FRESHMEN

Class of 1931

FROM all parts of the country they came; from large states and small states from small towns and large cities to form themselves into one group, with common interests and common aspirations—the Class of 1931.

Entering into campus activities with the desire to make their class one of the best to enter Ohio University, each member has striven to do his part. In the class room, on the stage, and on the athletic field, members of the Class of 1931 have shown capabilities and interests that far out-shine most yearling classes.

With the head start that the class now has, and with the unlimited possibilities that they have, great things are expected of them. Already many of them have secured positions of responsibility for the coming year, and it is hoped that they will fill them worthily.

The officers that have worked with the class during the past year are: President, Jack Jones; vice-president, Ray Hart; secretary, Marion McClure; and treasurer, Harold Danford.

The Freshmen

AFTER the usual "waiting period" attendant upon becoming adapted to university life and conditions, members of the Class of 1931 took their places among the leaders of campus activities with vigorous enthusiasm. Freshmen have become prominent in dramatics by taking leading parts in the college plays and in "Hello Happiness." The boys wearing the 1931 sweaters will bring honor to the colors of their Alma Mater, on the football, basketball, track, and tennis squads. Not content with these honors, they have sought others in every field of activity which campus offers, and now bid fair to be one of the most enthusiastic and most capable classes ever to enter Ohio University.

The Freshmen

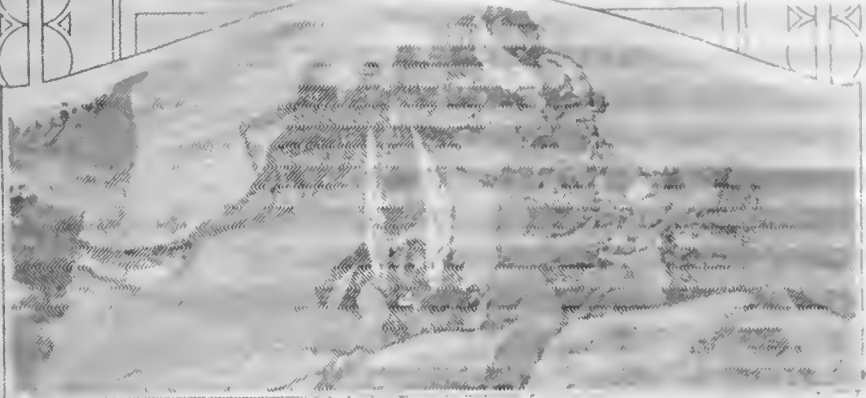

NOTHER Freshmen Class has passed into history, and a truly capable class it has been. They have come to us from near and from far, and have entered Ohio University life and activities with the desire to make a name for themselves, and it is our opinion that they have.

During the past year the Class of 1931 has been found in most every activity that the University has to offer. They have been found in social and honorary groups, on publications, on athletic squads, in musical and dramatic organizations; in short they have done their best to carry their share of the burden well. We hail them as a class possessing ability and promise, and one which will mean much to Ohio University during the remaining years of their college life.

It has seemed that the Freshmen have been unusually apt at such things as winning bag-rushes and tug-of-wars. Last fall, on Homcoming Day, it was they that carried off the honors in the first annual bag-rush, and it was they that pulled the Sophomores through the lake on May 16, Senior Day.

Theirs has been a record of which they can be justly proud. May they continue their activities during their remaining college days.

During the past year the Class of 1931 has been found in every activity that the University has to offer. They have been found in every classroom, in every laboratory, on athletic squads, in musical and dramatic organizations, in their clubs. They have carried their share of college life. We find them as a class possessing ability and promise, and one which will make a fine record for the University.

They have been found in every part of the University. They have been found in the laboratory and in the field, in the classroom and in the shop, in the gymnasium and in the playground. Athletic Council

HE most important change in the athletic organization brought about during this past year has been the abolition of the old Athletic Board. Formerly all athletic business, such as eligibility, letter awards, election of cheer leaders and managers was transacted by the Athletic Board. This Board consisted of several faculty members from various departments as well as several students. Under the new plan, all athletic business is carried on by the Athletic Staff of the Physical Education Department. This is a new innovation in athletic organization, and credit goes to Dr. Bryan for this progressive move.

This has been a very good year from the standpoint of eligibility of our athletes. Very few have fallen by the wayside. The Athletic Staff thus having had an easy job as far as eligibility is concerned.

At the present time the matter of awarding letters is greatly simplified because of uniform rules which exist in the Buckeye Athletic Association. Letters are awarded strictly according to athletic competition rather than upon recommendation of the coach.

The managerial system this year has been very good. Ohio University has indeed been very fortunate in having managers of exceptional all-around ability. The efficiency of the Athletic Organization depends much on the quality of the student managers.

The cheer leaders are now appointed by the Athletic Staff of the Physical Education Department. The cheering this year was better than in previous years, and it is hoped that it will continue to improve along this line.

FOOTBALL

O Captain Jack Robeson goes a majority of the praise and honor bestowed upon the 1927 eleven in holding Ohio Wesleyan's great team to a scoreless tie. The 7 to 7 contest with the Cincinnati Bearcats was just another indication of Robeson's ability.

Robeson, playing his third campaign as a member of Coach Don Peden's crew, was in the midst of where the fight was thickest, displaying an unconquerable, unbeatable, fine spirit. Throughout Jack's career as an Ohio University athlete he was noted as a "friendly enemy," always respecting the superior play of opponents. He was the kind of captain we all admire: insisting on congratulating the winner and consoling the loser.

Injuries, at times, seemed to ever be hindering his success. This, we believe kept him from being chosen a member of some mythical team.

Rio Grande's downfall, at the hands of Ohio, 21 to 0; Ohio Northern's defeat, 25 to 0; and Denison's being on the short end of a 12 to 7 verdict, can all be attributed, in no small part, to Robeson's football brains.

Captain-Elect 1928

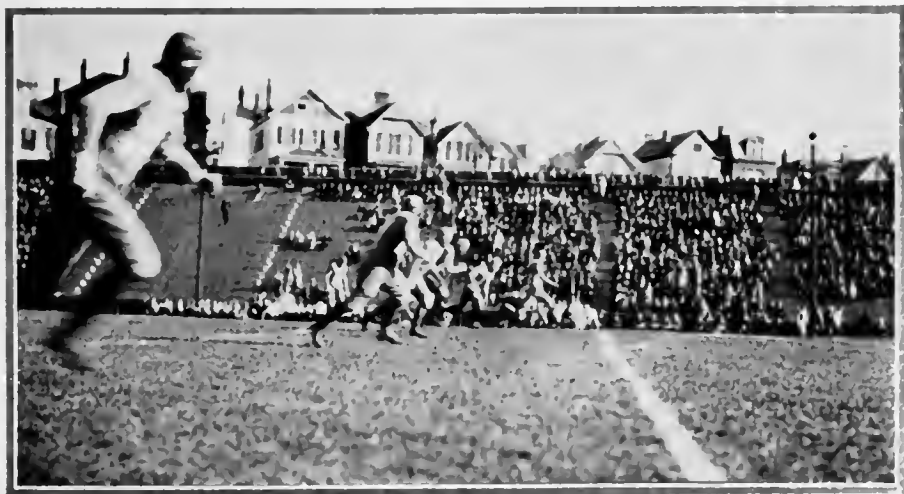

PETE MCKINLEY, probably the one man who has gained most ground for Ohio the past two years, has been chosen to pilot the Green and White grid machine of 1928.

McKinley, being a local Athens boy, has grown up with college athletes and athletics, so to speak. Before his high school days, Pete haunted the Ohio gridiron, court and diamond; this possibly accounting for his thorough knowledge of sports.

High school days brought to Ohio's next football captain his first laurels; as it was in the uniform of the Athens High that the sport searchlight first found him.

Success in athletics followed him into college. His freshman year found him tearing huge holes in the varsity line. The next football campaign found Pete stationed in the back field, where he proved a menace to all opposition. Coach Peden used McKinley as a fullback or half, where his good work earned for him a berth on the All-Ohio.

Pete McKinley is an inspiring player, with all the qualities of a leader—possessed with a dogged determination—a clean fighter every inch of the way. With McKinley at the helm of Ohio's football ship, the outlook for nineteen twenty-eight is exceptionally bright.

Ohio, 21; Rio Grande, 0

In a listless combat, Coach Don Peden's men defeated the Rio Grande eleven, 21-0, in the first game of the 1927 grid season on the Ohio field.

As to the features of the contest not much can be said, as both coaches made various assertions of substitutes, neither mentor keeping a team on the field capable of showing much real ball. However, the runs of Jack Robeson, Ohio captain, and the interception of a pass by the Green and White halfback, Jeffrey, was the only "value received" by the spectators.

Knox of Rio Grande and McKinley of Ohio engaged in several punting duels, neither one making any great distance.

Ohio, 0; Michigan State, 27

With the scalp of the Rio Grande crew hanging from their belts, the following weekend found Captain Robeson's men taking a beating at the hands of the Michigan State gridders at Lansing, the final count being 27 to 0.

Captain Smith, 190-pound full, and the Michigan signal barker, Dickenson, were, in no small part, responsible for the success of the Lansingers. Both ripped off large gains.

Ohio, 25; Ohio Northern, 0

Displaying for the first time the punch and fighting qualities synonymous with the term Bobcats, the Ohio gridders trounced the Ohio Northern eleven, 25-0, on the Ohio field in the second home game of the season. The Northern squad failed completely to live up to pre-game dope.

The Bobcats scored in every period but the third and never allowed the Bears to advance past the 25-yard line. Mason, Jeffery, Shafer and Jarvie scored the points for Ohio.

Ohio, 20; Marietta, 0

Marietta went down to defeat at the hands of a hard fighting Ohio eleven in the third, and never allowed the Bears to Mason and Brammer scoring 20 points to their opponents' none.

Advance dope on the Marietta aggregation gave them a chance to at least hold the Peden outfit, but no evidence of this kind showed itself during the fray.

Early in the second quarter an offensive rush was started that surprised the visitors and completely overwhelmed them.

Dickman, pioneer halfback, did much for his team offensively, and was, in fact, all that our neighbors had to offer in the way of competition.

Brammer, substituted for Shafer in the final minutes of play, made a beautiful interception of a pioneer heave and raced 42 yards for the final Ohio score of the afternoon.

Homecoming Day

Wittenberg lowered Ohio's colors in the fifth and Homecoming game of the locals' schedule, the final count being 28-0. The contest was played Saturday, October 22.

Two Lutheran halfbacks, Ulrich and Brickles, accounted for three of their team's four markers by using perfectly delayed plunges.

Playing in his usual form, Captain Jack Robeson led the attack of his eleven, passing with accuracy, running the ball with a sureness, and punting great distances. The services of Quarterback Mason were outstanding as it was he who ran back many a Wittenberg punt.

Other individual honors would possibly go to Glenn Cole, fullback of the local crew, who figured in practically every defensive play.

An Ohio passing attack, begun in the initial period, failed miserably when numerous interceptions were made, one by Brandt, paving the way to a touchdown.

Maurer, All-Ohio halfback, was injured while attempting a beautiful end run and Brickles was substituted. On his first play, Brickles raced 20 yards to a touchdown. Bradley made good the placekick.

The Bobcats, fighting to the end to score, opened up a series of passes and completed several short attempts, but the Lutheran secondary, ever alert, checked their onrush. The contest ended with the ball in the hands of the visitors.

Ohio, 12; Denison, 7

Two weeks later Denison's big football machine went down before the onslaught of the Pedenmen at Granville, the final score being 12 to 7.

Pete McKinley and Robeson carried the offensive work for the Green and White while the Denison fullback, Deeds, featured for the losers. A pass, Otto to Deeds, brought the lone marker for the Big Red in the second period.

McKinley's great work was due, in part, to the success of the Ohio forward wall. The line members displayed an entirely different brand of ball than on previous occasions, each man, from end to end, playing his position well.

The fumbling of a Bobcat punt by Denison started a march down the field for the locals that ended when the ball was over the last white stripe.

A few minutes later "Chick" Young put Ohio in a scoring position when he intercepted a pass and advanced it to the 25-yard line. In a series of plunges the oval was taken to the 1-yard tape, from where Pete McKinley carried it across. The try for point was missed.

Denison fought that second period and dangerously, too—as on several occasions a march down the field was started but each was halted in the nick of time.

Ohio, 7; Cincinnati, 7

Nippert Stadium at Cincinnati found a dogged Ohio eleven battle on even terms with the Cincy team, neither eleven being able to overcome a 7-7 deadlock.

The Bearcats' score came in a rather unusual way. Post's long heave to Filger was the cause of it all; the pass, though not completed, brought the Cincy tally. McKinley accidentally tripped Filger as he attempted to receive the pass. In the controversy which followed, the referee decided that our opponents be given the pigskin at the place where the mishap happened. This paved the way for the Cincinnatians to score, Filger carrying the ball over the goal line. Bryant accounted for the tying point.

Ohio's score, earlier in the fracas, was the direct result of the fumble of a Bobcat punt by Dial. Shafer, going down with the ball from an end position, recovered on the 1-yard stripe. On the next play "Chick" Young dove over the line. Quarterback Mason kicked the extra point.

And so, a technicality of the game robbed the Peden machine of a victory, which they deserved, and allowed each team to claim a moral victory.

Ohio, 0; Ohio Wesleyan, 0

In the final contest of the 1927 campaign, a fighting Bobcat team clashed with Ohio's traditional rival, Ohio Wesleyan, on the Ohio field. For four periods both teams put forth their best football, and when the final gun sounded the scoreboard indicated a scoreless tie. This contest was truly a fitting climax to the season's schedule.

Many bits of choice football were seen by the large crowd of spectators that braved the cold weather to see the Peden eleven play their best to defeat their rivals.

That Ohio line held like a brick wall while the backfield was using some high-class football strategy to outwit their, seemingly just as equal, opponents.

Wesleyan came to the local gridiron with a highly-touted aggregation, and the Bobcats were prepared for anything that it had to offer. It was a Wesleyan eleven that refused to be outsmarted and that explains the situation.

The contest was typical of the usual Ohio-Wesleyan games of past campaigns, but the showing of the Green and White eleven was the best for several seasons. The Bobcats were keyed to the highest fighting pitch, and never once did they lay down on the job.

With the Wesleyan backfield, composed of such men as Halliday, Thomas, Meyers and quarterback Glancy, it was seemingly not difficult for the Red and Black to advance the ball to the goal line. But then the Ohio line held as it never did before and kept the scoreboard clean of figures.

The game brought forth no individual stars for the local outfit as each man played his position well and attributed to the success of the Peden team. From start to finish the Bobcats outplayed the Bishops in all departments of the game. Many times the locals threatened the Red and Black goal line, only to be repulsed by a scrappy Wesleyan outfit that just would not be outwitted.

This contest was the final for several members of both the Ohio and Wesleyan elevens. Sereno Shafer, end and halfback, wore a Green and White jersey for the last time on a gridiron and wound up a career that brought much comment. Jack Robeson, halfback and captain of the 1927 squad, also played his last for Ohio in his usual fighting manner. Others who played auspiciously against the Bishops but who have another year or two to play were Pete McKinley, captain-elect, who covered one of the backfield positions; "Chick" Young, 1927 fullback, who accounted for many Ohio scores during the season; Mason, who guided the Bobcats through their many stiff battles; Garrison, an end, and Rhodes, who appeared in a backfield position.

BASKETBALL

John Brammer

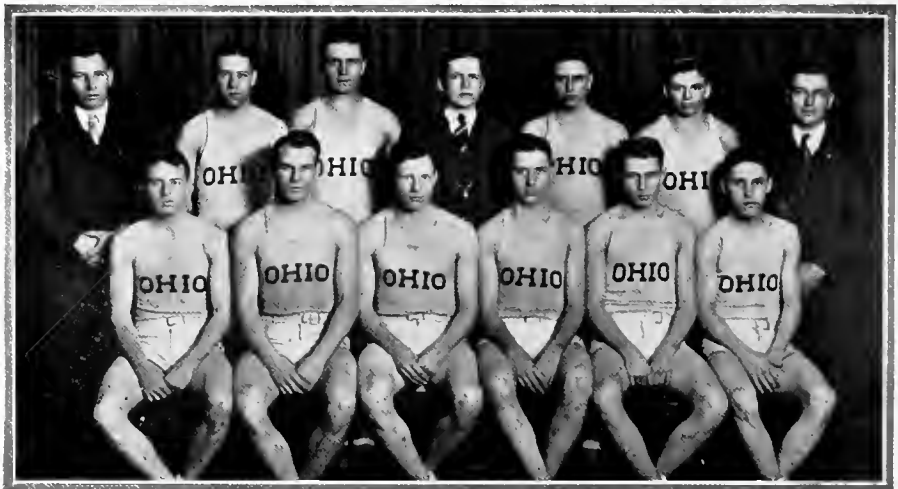

NE of the outstanding members of the 1927-28 Bobcat court squad was John Brammer, who was playing his first year of varsity competition.

Brammer, a Sophomore, handled the tipoff position during most of the season and the work of the auburn-haired lad brought forth much comment. He was always a leader on offense or defense and played a big part in many of Ohio's victories.

Although he was somewhat overshadowed by the remarkable playing of Jack Burkholder, Brammer was second in the Bobcat scoring. His best showings of the season were made against Wittenberg, when he lead the Grovermen in scoring. His close guarding always made him a threat to all opponents and with the support of Bayless, Walton and Dubois a combination was formed that was hard to stop.

Brammer was one of several Sophomores on the squad but his improvement during the season showed that he was one of the strongest players and one that will undoubtedly add much strength to the team next year.

The system of naming captains for each game was followed during the past season and on most occasions this honor went to Burkholder. Bayless, who played in a guard position, captained the team in a few games.

Jack Burkholder

ACK BURKHOLDER, who will be playing his final season under the Green and White colors, has been selected to lead the Bobcat court team during the 1928-29 campaign. Burkholder is a forward and has been a strong offensive player for the past two seasons.

During the 1927-28 season Jack led the Bobcats in scoring and was one of the high point men of the Buckeye conference. He led for part of the season and only lost out by a few points to Taylor, Miami star.

Cat-like movements, quick and sure, characterized Burkholder's appearances in the court game. His dribbling, close to the floor, accounted for many of the thrills offered the spectators during the past season. Burkholder was always a great threat to any attack that Ohio's opponents might attempt.

Aiding Burkholder in many of the Bobcats' triumphs were Russ, Brammer, Kline, Bayless, DuBois, Walton, Swackhamer, Trace, Campbell and Williams, all of whom played valiant hall during the season just passed.

With Burkholder as leader and several other varsity members available, Coach Grover expects to put one of the best Ohio court teams in the field next season and one that will offer strong competition to other Buckeye conference members.

Basketball

In two practice games, leading up to the Buckeye Association schedule, the Bobcat cagers scored decisive victories over the Bliss College quintet from Columbus and the Marietta aggregation. Bliss was subdued by a count of 44-17, while the Marietta outfit fell by a 40-22 count in a free scoring game.

The Buckeye schedule got under way with a thrilling contest at Cincinnati with the Cincinnati five. Considered as weak opposition before the game, the Bobcats played on equal terms with the Cincy crew, losing out by a 28-27 count. At the end of the first half the Grovermen held a lead of one point, 17-16.

Three Sophomore players—Campbell, Trace and Brammer—worked to perfection against the Bearcats and were instrumental in scoring many of Ohio's points. Burkholder was high-point man for Ohio.

January eleventh proved a disastrous date for the Green and white cagers when they played host to the Muskingum crew. Bob Taylor, Musky star, was the main cog of the visitor's machine, collecting a total of 21 points. When the final whistle sounded, the Bobcats were on the short end of a 54-19 count, having been completely outplayed by the visitors.

After playing the Ohio Wesleyan quintet on even terms for the first three periods, the Ohio defense weakened and the Bishops were able to score a 41-32 victory over the Green and White cagers. Magley and Siegenthaler carried the Wesleyan offense and together scored the majority of Wesleyan's counters.

The final score is not a true indication of the fight displayed by Grover's men. The Red and Black outfit displayed an almost unpenetrable defense throughout the contest and opened up with a snappy offense in the final period that netted them nine points and a victory.

The "Praying Colonels" of Centre College fell victim to the Ohio team on January 19 when they were defeated decisively 39 to 23. Burkholder, Ohio's star, and Deaton, Centre's tipoff man, staged a scoring duel, which the former Lakewood High star won by a majority of five points.

"Red" Brammer started the scoring in the first minute of play with a free throw and during the first nine and one-half minutes, the Green and White crew totaled eighteen markers. Burkholder, besides contributing to other scores, had seventeen points to his credit.

The Grovermen scored their first Buckeye victory in an easy tussle with the "Big Red" machine from Demson, the final count being 31 to 22. The Bobcats played consistently and were never in danger of losing out.

Burkholder, playing his usual scoring game, garnered fourteen points but lost first place in the conference scoring, Taylor of Miami taking the lead by two points. Trace and Brammer were also big factors in Ohio's offense while Bliss and English were the best that the Baptists had to offer in the way of opposition.

Guarding almost perfectly, with Trace, Brammer and Burkholder hitting the loop with uncanny accuracy, the Bobcats sent the Miami quintet down to a 36-22 defeat on the local court. Paul Taylor, Miami's leading Conference scorer, was closely guarded by the airtight Ohio defense and succeeded in slipping through but a couple of times.

Rallying in the third quarter, the Miami team attempted to close the gap but this was checked when Burkholder sent a couple long shots through the net that put the Bobcats entirely out of danger.

Wittenberg hit its stride and completely snowed under the Grovermen, 52 to 36, in a one-sided contest in the local's ninth start of the season. The first half was a shooting duel between Burkholder and Brammer for Ohio and Maurer and Kaiser for the Lutherans. Burkholder had twenty-two points to his credit for the evening.

Good defense kept Ohio in the running for the first five minutes of the second half but Maurer and Kaiser soon got started and from then on the Bobcats had little chance. DuBois returned to the Ohio squad after a semester of ineligibility and played a crack game for his team.

In a genuine "heart breaker" Ohio lost one of its hardest assignments when the Ohio Wesleyan quintet bested the Green and White, 30 to 29, in an overtime affair on the Methodist court. Wesleyan owes her success to "Red" Halliday, who scored the tying shot.

Wesleyan was conceded an easy victory due to the absence of Trace and Macklin from the Ohio line-up, but in reality the Methodists met some of the toughest opposition and conquered Ohio for the second time.

Marietta's gymnasium was the scene of a massacre the evening of February 11th, when Bayless, DuBois and Burkholder succeeded in doing away with the Pioneer basketballers, 53 to 16. Trott was the only Marietta player to score from the field. Coach Grover used every member of the squad during the game.

"Bud" Dubois brought the boys to life and they succeeded in trouncing Wittenberg 41 to 37 in the next struggle of the '27-'28 season. Keyser and Bauer opened up a Lutheran barrage in the final period that all but conquered the Bobcats.

Both aggregations played fast ball and the Ohioans, especially, played a much improved game.

Poor defensive plays and very erratic basketball accounted for the defeat of Coach "Butch" Grover's rubber-soled artists by Miami's quintet 51 to 32 at Oxford. The Miami basketballers started the game with a rush and hung up a goodly margin in the first half, taking the lead 23-8 at half-time.

Although Miami continued its scoring spree during the second half, Ohio came to life and fought fiercely to close the gap between the two scores.

Ohio won the honor of being the first conference team to defeat the Cincinnati quintet when a terrific and clever offensive sent the Bearcats down to a 46-33 defeat on the local court. Close guarding of Bolton by "Red" Brammer held this star player to three field goals, his lowest score of the season. This was truly Ohio's greatest win of the season.

A Cincy onrush led by Dan Early and Flax was checked by DuBois and from that point on, Ohio was in there fighting with Brammer and Burkholder doing the heavy work.

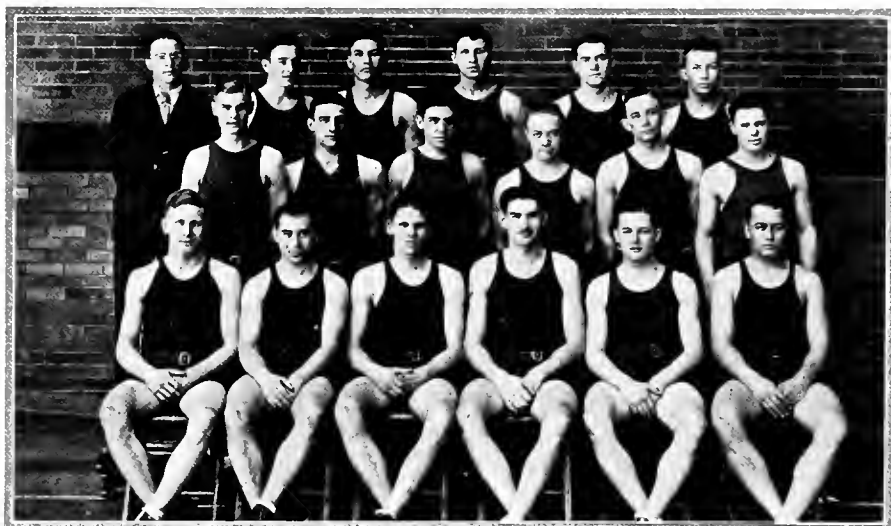

Dazzling offensive plays and a strong defensive accounted for Ohio's 40 to 36 verdict over Muskingum's fighting five in a contest on the New Concord floor. The small playing space resulted in much fouling that slowed up the game considerably. The Muskies started with a strong offensive that was checked by the Bobcats.

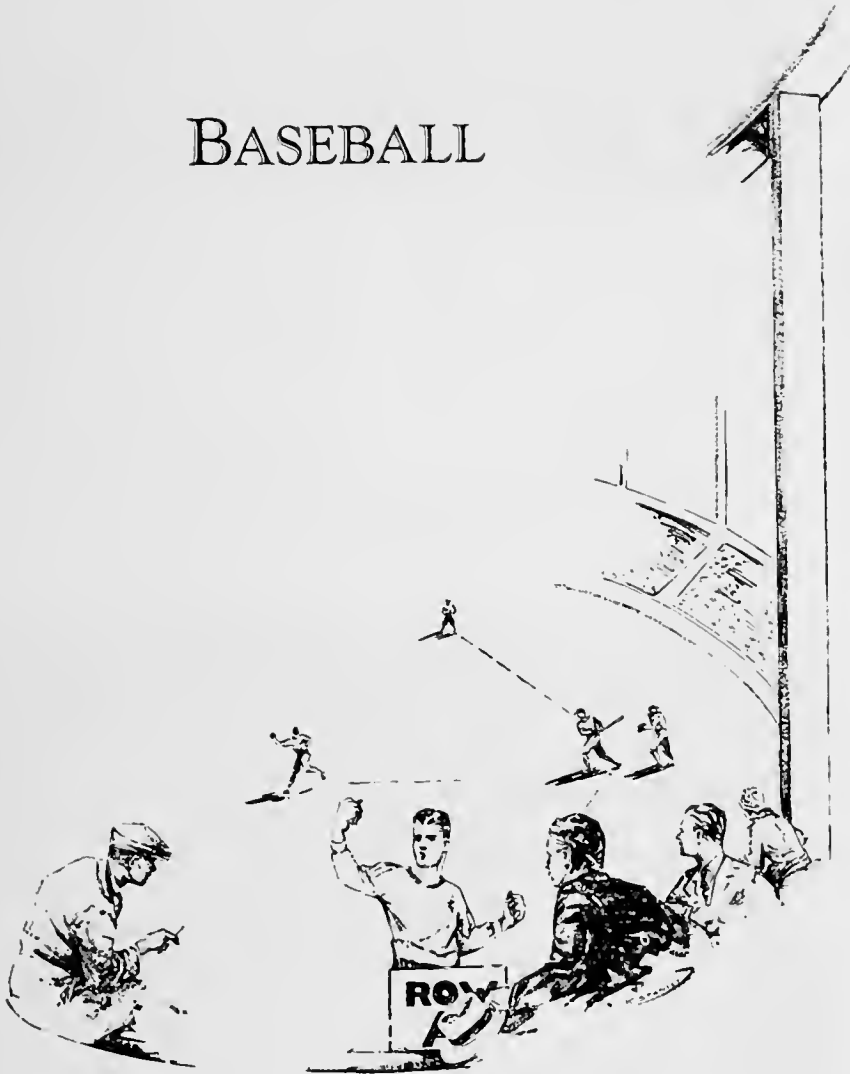

Burkholder, playing in his usual form, took the scoring honors of the contest with five field goals and four fouls. "Bud" DuBois and Bayless bore the brunt of the defensive play.

In the final contest of the season the Bobcats lost a tough encounter to Denison, 36 to 34, on the local court. The Green and White cagers let the Bishops take the offensive at the start of the game and allowed them to get too big a lead before they entered the fight.

"Whitey" Bliss, Denison guard, led the Bishops in scoring with fourteen markers while Burkholder was best for the losers. Brammer, Bayless and DuBois also figured prominently in Ohio's playing.

BASEBALL

Most Valuable Player of 1927

FROM a galaxy of real baseball material that made up the Green and White diamond crew of the year of 1927, John Greer has been, in the opinion of his coaches, team mates, and the general sporting public, chosen as the most valuable player.

Greer took care of the garden plot around the vicinity of center field and did a good job of it.

With the stick, this center fielder performed equally as well, most always being good for a one base hit. It was a habit of Greer's to clout the ball out into the center field zone.

Victories over the strong nines of Denison, Wittenberg, Marietta, Ohio Wesleyan, and Denison a second time, are results of Greer's work for Ohio.

Assisting Greer in his glory-winning were Barfoot and Pete McKinley, who did Ohio's battling from the mound; Fuller, right field; Agostinelli, left field; Bayless, shortstop; Robeson, third base; McNabb, second base; Williams, first base; and Swearingen doing duty behind the bat.

Coach Peden will be without the services of John Greer this season and his position on the varsity will be difficult to fill.

Captain 1928

STANLEY BAYLESS, who took care of the shortstop post during the last season, was chosen captain of the 1928 baseball team.

Ability on the various fields of sport, his friendly relations with his team mates, and other numerous qualities of leadership that he possess brought to him this coveted reward.

Bayless has done much toward giving Ohio many a baseball and basketball win; many will remember his timely shots in the Cincinnati-Ohio court fracas and how they saved the game; nor will it be forgotten the fielding by him that kept Ohio in the running in a goodly number of cases.

With a man such as Stan Bayless leading the baseball team, and assisted by Herb Murray, Pete McKinley, Agostinelli, Williams, and with the return of Barfoot to school, a majority of the contests should be Ohio victories.

Murray and McKinley were the two highest percentage batters in the Buckeye Association last season as both of these men exceeded the .500 mark.

Baseball

Ohio, 3; Miami, 13

Ohio's baseball squad started the season in an auspicious manner against the Miami nine, taking the short end of a 13-3 count in a slow contest played at Oxford. Fuller and McKinley, Bobcat hurlers, were unable to hold the Miami sluggers in check. Murray, McNab and Williams accounted for the Green and White tallies.

Ohio, 1; Cincinnati, 5

On the following day the Bobcats suffered a 5 to 1 defeat at the hands of the Cincinnati nine on the latter's diamond. This game was more interesting than the Miami encounter and was featured by fair hurling and air-tight fielding by both teams.

Ohio, 8; Wittenberg, 1

Wittenberg fell before a greatly improved Green and White team the following week when the locals trounced them, 8-1, on the local diamond. A neat hurling exhibition, coupled with some fine work by Ohio with the stick, put the Lutheran aggregation to route. "Lefty" allowed three scattered bingles and struck out fourteen Wittenberg sluggers.

According to the score one would surmise a one-sided contest but the game was anything but that until in the "lucky seventh" when the Bobcats trotted around for four markers.

Ohio, 2; Marietta, 5

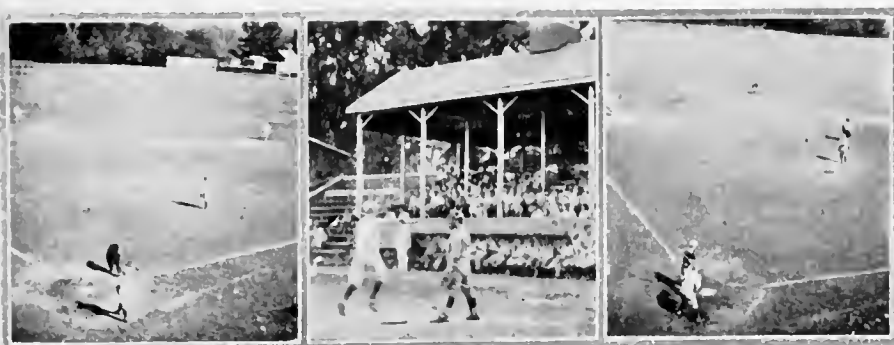

Fuller's wildness and poor hitting on the part of Ohio batsmen caused the locals to drop one to Marietta, 5-2, on the Marietta diamond. Eggenberger had a good day on the mound for the Pioneer aggregation, allowing only five hits.

Ohio, 0; Ohio Wesleyan, 2

Errors accounted for the defeat of Ohio by Wesleyan, an old time enemy, 2-0, on the Ohio field in the fifth game of the '27 campaign. "Lefty" Barfoot hurled a beautiful game and his deliveries were as consistent as one would want to see.

While Barfoot was hurling his shutout ball and was allowing but seven scattered hits, five errors were chalked up on the Bobcat ledger, all of which helped to count for the Bishop runs. "Stage fright" possessed by Peden's men was probably caused by that Wesleyan "jinx" which had been so prevalent in past contests.

Shaper, Wesleyan moundsman, held the Green and White outfit under control at all times and was accorded fine support in the infield, while every Ohio infielder was guilty of an error. Hinder starred for the Red and Black outfit with his three timely hits.

Ohio, 7; Denison 3

Completing the first half of the schedule, the Bobcats handed a 7-3 trimming to the Big Red outfit at Granville in a game featured by errors. Benson, one-arm hurler, opposed McKinley and was touched for eight hits while the latter allowed nine. Errors at the opportune moment aided both teams to score. Bayless, McKinley and Fuller each scored two-base hits for Ohio.

Ohio, 4; Wittenberg, 11

The second game with Wittenberg, played at Springfield, resulted in an 11 to 4 victory for the Lutherans. Eight errors by the Bobcats paved the way for the Wittenberg win. Barfoot and Bullock were both touched for many hits.

Wittenberg opened the scoring in the first inning on an error and the game went scoreless for several innings until Ohio tied the count and went into a two run lead. When the Bobcat outfield missed several easy flies, the Lutherans ran their markers to 11. Ohio failed to score in the final frame after filling the bases.

Ohio, 17; Marietta, 8

In a weird exhibition, the Bobcats took the measure of the Marietta diamond men, 17 to 8. Thirteen Ohio swatsmen faced Farnham, Pioneer hurler, in the first frame, and eight runs were scored in that eventful inning. The Pedenmen took advantage of innumerable Marietta errors and free passes to pile up a winning score.

Ohio, 7; Ohio Wesleyan, 0

It was a surprise to the Wesleyan team that went to bed the night of the big 7 to 0 whitewash handed the Methodist nine on their own diamond. To Barfoot goes the victory, as it was he who performed not a few mystifying tricks with the horsehide pellet.

Ohio, 4; Cincinnati, 8

It took a lucky sixth for the Cincy Bearcats to score four hits and three walks to outrun the local nine, 8 to 4. Poor plays helped to lose for the Pedenmen.

Ohio, 2; Miami, 4

Miami's baseball club made the local diamond team content to be on the short end of a 4 to 2 decision. Barfoot hurled great ball and probably earned a victory but numerous errors robbed the southpaw of this glory. Bayless and Greer led the Ohio batting attack with two hits each, and Elleresser was high man for his team with a like number of safeties. McKinley connected for a three-base wallop.

Ohio, 7; Denison, 6

In the final tilt of the season, the Bobcats scored a 7 to 6 victory over a fighting Denison nine, on the Ohio field. The game was listless until the eighth frame when the Baptists started a rally that nearly stopped the locals. Ohio held a seven run lead, gained in the third, fourth, fifth, and seventh innings. The Baptists marked up three runs in the eighth and were still growing strong in the ninth after adding three more runs when a double out pulled the game from the fire.

Pete McKinley was master of the Denison sluggers for seven innings. Barfoot taking the mound in the eighth. Benson, one armed hurler, performed well, as it was his single in the eighth that accounted for two runs.

TRACK

Clarence Hudson

LARENCE HUDSON, running under the Green and White colors for his final season, was one of the most consistent scorers on Coach Bill Herbert's squad during the 1927 campaign. In every meet he aided in the Ohio scoring.

Hudson's abilities were somewhat versatile as he participated in both track and field events. He was the mainstay of the squad in the 120-yard high and the 220-yard low hurdles and in the javelin event. In addition he was a member of the mile relay team which was a feature of the 1927 team.

Although the Bobcats won but one meet during the season, the showing of the tracksters was favorable considering the stiff opposition offered by their opponents.

In the Cincinnati meet Hudson was high scorer with 13 points while he ranked second in the Muskingum meet with 11 markers. He captured second place in the javelin event in all but the Buckeye and Ohio conference meets. Against the Frosh he tied for first place in the high hurdles and won the low hurdles; in the Denison meet he was second in the high hurdles; at Cincinnati he was second in both hurdle events and in the Muskingum meet he won the low hurdles and placed second in the high hurdles. In the latter event he permitted Cowan to cross the line before him, displaying some true sportsmanship.

Paul Freshwater

N Paul Freshwater, captain of the 1928 track team, Coach Herbert has one of the best pole vaulters ever to wear the Green and White of Ohio. This year is his last on the squad and his loss will be keenly felt in this event.

Freshwater brought much honor to Ohio and its tracksters when he tied for first place in the pole vault event at the Ohio conference meet. He reached a height of 11 feet, 5 inches, one of the best marks ever made in this meet and one several inches above his average record.

Although he confined his efforts to a single event, Freshwater was a consistent point-getter for the Bobcats. He took second place in his event at the Big Six meet, tied for first place in the Denison meet with a mark of 10 feet, 11¼ inches, and was first against Muskingum with a height of 10 feet, 10 inches.

With Freshwater as leader and several varsity members available for the squad, Coach Herbert expects the tracksters to hang up a good record during the 1928 season. A few members of the 1927 team will be missing but it is felt their places will be capably filled from the Frosh squad of last season, which was one of the best in Ohio's history. A stiff schedule faces the 1928 team but all indications point to a most successful season for the Bobcat tracksters.

Track

The varsity tracksters opened the 1927 season on April 9 in a meet with the yearling squad on Ohio field. The Frosh put up some clean competition but were subdued 81 to 44. Fourteen events were on the program.

The Frosh captured firsts in the discus and javelin events while all other first and most of the second places were taken by the varsity. Macklin of the varsity finished first in the four events he entered.

The Ohio squad, after winning a place in each event of the triangular meet with Denison and Wittenberg at Granville. The Green and White squad won a place in each event while Denison failed to place in only one event, the high jump. Wittenberg garnered five points with first place in the high jump.

Denison captured twelve firsts and tied with Ohio in the pole vault. The Big Red squad also broke the Buckeye record in the shot put, making a distance of 42 feet, 5 inches. Heinrichs, Denison captain, was high point man with 25 points while Schaal led Ohio with eight markers. Hudson and Macklin tied with seven points each, the latter placing in five events.

In a closely contested meet with the Cincinnati team at Nippert Stadium on May 7, Coach Bill Herbert's squad came out on the losing end of an 85-43 count after losing several close decisions. Hudson, veteran Ohio trackster, was high point man with 13 points, while Macklin, who placed second in every event he entered, had 12 markers, and Bennett led the Bearcats with 11 tallies.

Two Cincinnati records were broken in this meet. In the mile relay, the Bearcats won out on the last lap by a few inches. The time was 3:30. Goldmeyer reached a height of 5 feet, 11 inches in the high jump for a new mark. Fifteen events were on the program.

The Ohio tracksters won their first meet of the season on May 14 when they ran wild against Muskingum at New Concord, broke six records, and swamped the Muskies 77-53. Bill Herbert's squad copped 11 first places in 14 events. Macklin was high scorer for the Bobcats with 21 points and Hudson was next with 11.

Macklin copped the 220-yard dash in 22 4-10 seconds, four seconds under the old mark. Terven bettered the old mark of 53 seconds in the 440-yard dash by .8 second and in the discus Marlowe added more than five feet to the old mark with a throw of 117 feet, 6¾ inches. Schaal, Ohio miler, clipped two seconds off the old mile mark of 4.47 and Patterson put the shot for a new record of 39 feet, 10 inches. The Bobcat relay team, composed of Hudson, Tipton, Terven and Macklin, ran the mile in 3:41 to best the old mark by 14 seconds.

Placing in five of the fifteen events, the Bobcats took fifth place in the annual Buckeye association meet at Granville on May 20 and 21. Ohio Wesleyan, by scoring heavily in the distance and field events, won first place with 70 points. Other scores were Denison, 49½; Cincinnati, 45½; Miami, 41½; Ohio 17½, and Wittenberg, 1. Heinrichs, Denison captain, was high scorer with 22 points. Eight new Buckeye records were hung up during the meet.

The Bobcat tracksters tied for second place in the shot put, placed fourth in the 880-yard run, third in the 440-yard dash, third in the mile relay and took second place in the pole vault. The meet was featured by some of the stiffest competition ever offered in a Buckeye meet.

All advance predictions ran true to form when the Ohio Wesleyan team ran off with first honors in the annual Ohio Inter-collegiate Athletic Association field and track meet in the Nippert stadium at Cincinnati on May 27 and 28. Seventeen Ohio schools sent representatives to the meet which was featured by some of the strongest competition ever offered in the 25 years of its history.

The showing of the Bobcat squad, which captured tenth place with a total of five points, was somewhat surprising when the stiff competition is considered.

Freshwater was the outstanding performer for Bill Herbert's squad when he tied for first place in the pole vault event with Blickle and Kerr, both of Ohio Wesleyan. All reached a height of 11 feet, 5 inches, one of the best marks ever made in this event in the Ohio conference meets.

The Ohio mile relay team, composed of Hudson, Tipton, Terven and Macklin, scored the remainder of the points for the Herbertmen when they placed fifth in their event. First place went to the Wooster college team which established a new conference record in winning the event.

The Ohio tracksters opened the 1928 season by participating in the annual Ohio Relays at Columbus. The relay team, composed of Terven, Schaal, Pyle and Glander, placed in the mile relay for Class B colleges while the distance medley squad made a favorable showing against stiff competition.

The first big meet of the season was the annual affair at Cincinnati, in which Ohio, Cincinnati and Miami participated. The Bobcat tracksters captured third place, making a remarkable showing considering the poor training facilities available here.

Journeying to Westerville, the Bobcats subdued a strong Otterbein squad by a 77½ to 55½ score. The Ohio squad garnered five first places and made the best showing of the season.

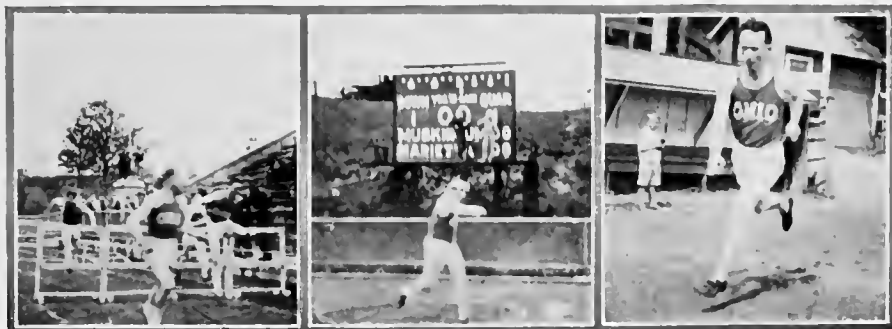

Terven, Pyle, Tilton, Patterson and Freshwater were the main point getters for the Herbsmen, taking wins in the 440-yard dash, the mile, two-mile, shot put and pole vault, respectively.

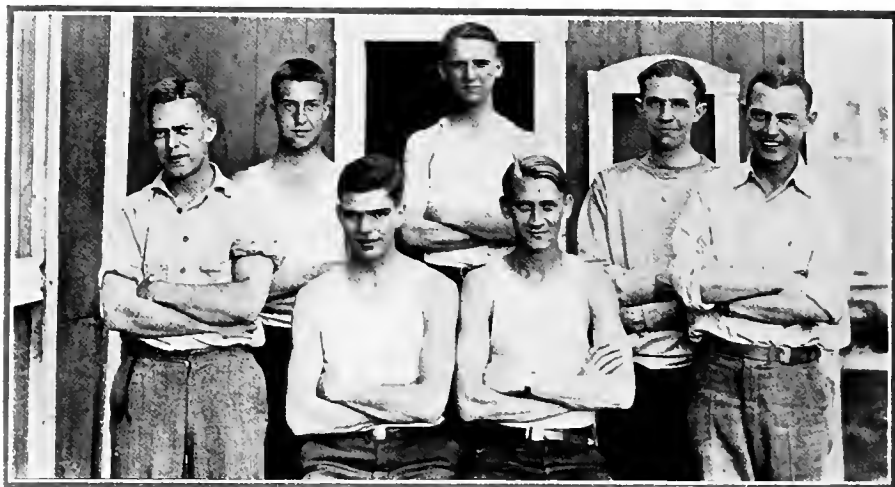

Freshwater broke all his previous records by clearing the bar at 11 feet, 6 inches. Patterson also outdid himself by heaving the weight a distance of 40 feet, 3½ inches. Terven was up to form in the quarter mile but fell down in his 100 yard dash performance.

Many second and third places helped the Bobcats in scoring.

On Saturday, May 12, the Bobcats journeyed to Granville to take part in the annual quadrangular meet at Denison University. Muskingum, Denison, Wesleyan and Ohio were the four schools offering competition in the meet.

Wesleyan, as usual, walked off with first honors with a total score of over 100 points. Denison was awarded second honors while Muskingum and Ohio placed in the third and fourth positions.

Pyle was in rare form for the day and placed first in the mile race with a time of 4 minutes, 39 seconds. Terven fell down in the 100-yard dash but placed second in the quarter mile event. The showing of the entire Ohio squad was better than was expected.

Other features of the season were the annual telegraphic track meet between the schools making up the Buckeye Athletic Association. Events were run off on the various tracks on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 15 and 16. The annual Bix Six meet at Miami University also drew some stiff competition and was the crowning point of one of the most successful seasons in the history of track at Ohio University.

WRESTLING

William Brubaker

ILLIAM (Bill) BRUBAKER, captain of Coach Olson's 1927 wrestling team, was one of the most outstanding mat men ever developed at the local institution. He was serving his last year on the squad and his loss was keenly felt in his division.

Brubaker specialized in the 158-pound division and went through his training in a diligent and whole-hearted manner. His showing in the Buckeye meet was a credit to Coach Olson and aided the Bobcats greatly in winning the conference championship for the second successive season.

The Bobcats participated in six matches during the season and in each of these Captain Brubaker scored some points, making him the most consistent point-getter on the squad. His most notable showing was in the opening match with Ohio State. At the start of the bout he was dazed from a blow on the head but he fought bravely for several minutes before losing on a decision.

Four wins by falls, were marked up to his credit, in the matches with the Freshman squad, Ohio Wesleyan, West Virginia and Michigan State. All were scored in easy fashion. In the Buckeye Association meet he threw Tilton of Wesleyan in 2 minutes, 34 seconds, and won from Flannery of Cincinnati by a time advantage, taking the conference championship in this class.

Joe Begala

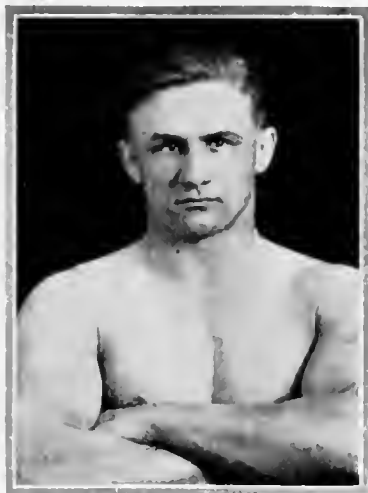

HE "iron man" of the Ohio wrestling squad is a true description of Joe Begala, who captained the Green and White mat squad during the 1928 season. Joe has one more year on the team and should be an outstanding member for another season.

Begala has been a mainstay of Coach Olson's mat squad for two years and through his general aggressiveness, his excellent physique and his consistent battling, has been a constant point winner for the Bobcats. He is the holder of the Buckeye Association championship in the heavyweight division.

Joe's greatest achievement of the past season was registered in the meet with Purdue, when he scored all of Ohio's points. He won the 175-pound event by a fall and in the heavyweight division scored on a decision over Johnson, Boiler-maker captain.

Although the 1928 season was a poor one for the Bobcats, the showing made against much stronger teams was encouraging and Coach Olson is looking forward to a more promising record in 1929. Stocker and Shafer, who scored decisions in the final match of the season, will be the only matmen who will not be back to answer the call next year. Begala and Shafer were chosen at the end of the schedule to take part in the Olympic wrestling tryouts at Columbus.

Wrestling

Ohio, 0; Michigan, 29

Staging a stubborn but losing battle, the Ohio mat squad opened the season on January 11, with a 29 to 0 defeat at the hands of the University of Michigan grapplers, at Ann Arbor.

The feature bout was between Shafer and Sauer, Buckeye and Western Conference champs respectively. After the bout went for two-three minute overtime periods, Sauer was given a hairline decision.

All of the other matches on the program were lost by the Bobcats; but not until they had put forth some stiff competition. The showing of the squad was above expectation considering the opposition.

Ohio, 3; Ohio State, 20

Staging their second Western Conference match of the season, Olson's grapplers lost to the strong Ohio State squad, 20 to 3, at Columbus on January 14. Roberts, Bobcat entry in the 136 pound division, scored a victory over Scheidt on a time advantage for Ohio's only points.

Although the score was greatly one-sided, all events were hotly contested with the Bobcat grapplers showing their usual brand of fight.

Ohio, 8; Indiana, 21

One fall and a decision was all that Ohio matmen could gain in the match with the University of Indiana team at Bloomington, January 28, the final count being 21 to 8.

The seven events on the program were full of much hard wrestling.

Begala, entered in both the 175-pound and heavyweight divisions, won the former by a fall over Avins in eight minutes. Shafer received the decision in the 145-pound class on a time advantage. All other matches were won by the Hoosiers.

Ohio, 8; Purdue, 21

Unable to cope with the many tricks of a veteran wrestling squad, the Bobcats went down to a 21 to 8 defeat at the hands of the Purdue mat team at Lafayette, February 11.

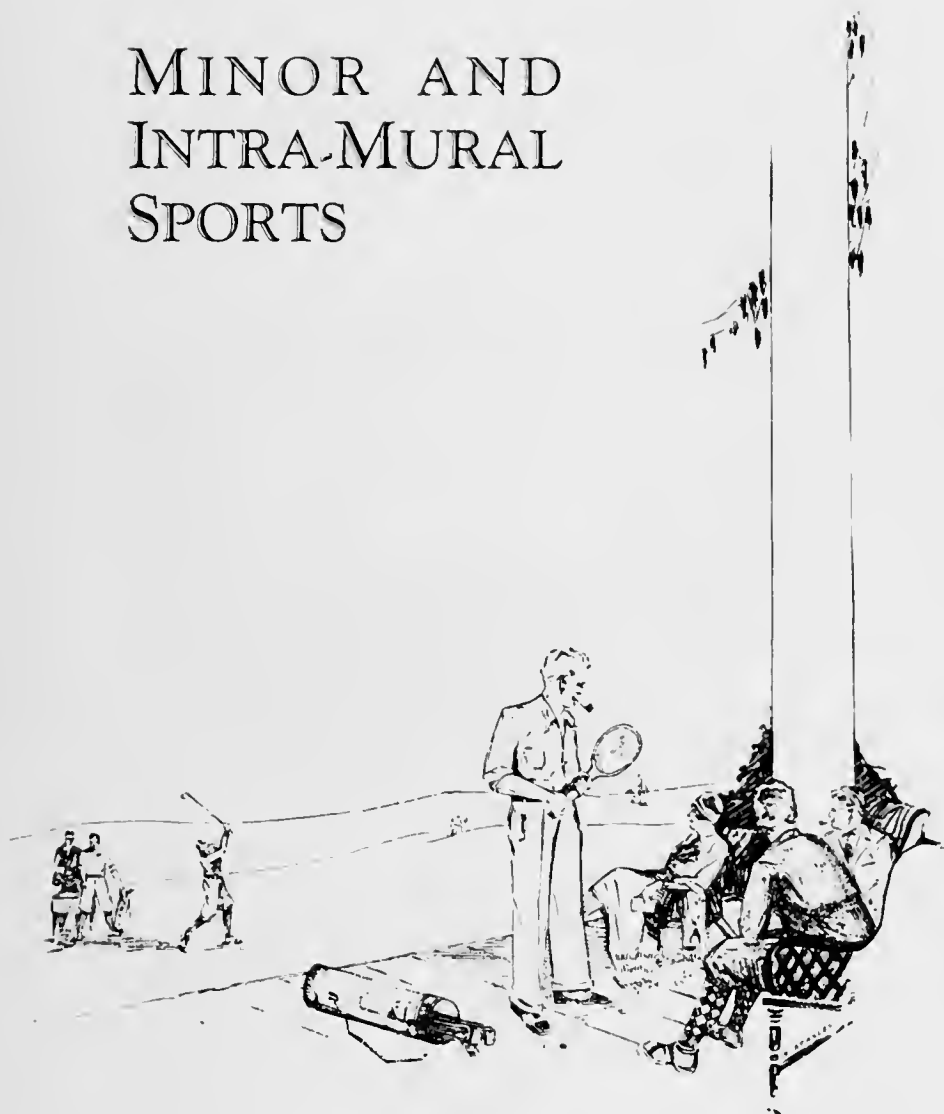

Begala pulled the iron man stunt and scored all of Ohio's points. He won the 175-pound event by a fall and the heavyweight match by a decision over Johnson, Purdue captain.

The Ohioans lost the other matches on the program, three by falls and two by decisions. This was Ohio's fourth successive defeat with Western Conference teams; some of them the best in the United States.

MINOR AND INTRA-MURAL SPORTS

Tennis, 1927

The racquet wielding season for Ohio University proved quite successful; a number of the best court stars of the game falling before the superior play of the locals.

Herb McConahey carried his share of the burden well, figuring in the defeat of many doubles teams that attempted to wrest any glory from Ohio. Besides being a member of a crack doubles combination he played No. 1 man in the singles.

Tennis, 1927

John Lutz, Burkholder, and Walton were the remaining members of the squad. Lutz, playing his first season of college tennis exhibited some neat form and showed consistent ability in the pinches.

The Story of Ohio

On March 1, 1786 a meeting was held at the famous "Bunch of Grapes Tavern" in Boston for the purpose of forming the Ohio Company. One of the eleven men present was he who is known as the Father of Ohio University, Reverend Manasseh Cutler. A proposal was drawn up which was submitted to Congress by Dr. Cutler. The contract which contained the first provisions for Ohio University was authorized by Congress on July 27, 1787—just fourteen days after the passing of the famous ordinance of 1787, and fifty-two days before the completion of the Constitution of the United States of America.

In the contract of the company was the provision that Congress should set aside two townships for the support of a University. These two townships were located in 1795, as townships eight and nine in range fourteen—the present Alexander and Athens Townships, Athens County, Ohio.

The territorial legislature in 1799 passed a resolution requesting Rufus Putnam, Benjamin Tupper, Ines Gilman, and Jonathan Stone to lay off in the most suitable place, a town site which should contain a site for the college. A year later the report was accepted and approved and the legislature ordered that the town be confirmed and established as the town of Athens.

Dr. Cutler sent in 1800 a charter together with his suggestions, among which are these: "the name should be The American University; the president should serve during good behavior; there should be quarterly examinations of students; a safe administration of the two townships should be assured; no large buildings for the residence of students, should be erected, for 'chambers in colleges are often the secret nurseries of every vice, and the cages of unclean birds.'" His suggestions were included in the Act of the Territorial Legislature in 1802, which provided for the establishing of The American University.

By the famous Act of 1804 Ohio University was created by the State, the Trustees were named, and the selection of their successors by the General Assembly was provided for. The Governor was and is a member of the Board of Trustees. Honorable Edward Tiffin, first Governor of Ohio, rode on horse-back from Chillicothe to preside over the first meeting of the trustees, which was held on June 4, 5, and 6, 1804.

The academy was opened on June 1, 1808 in the two-room, two-story brick buildings which stood on the present site of the Sundial. Jacob Lindley became Preceptor of the University, which position he held until 1882.

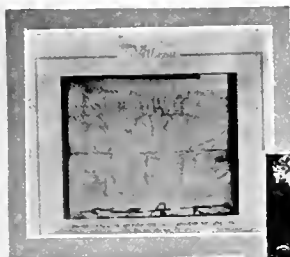

Thus we see The Story of Ohio, a story held dear to the hearts of every Ohio Man and every Ohio Woman; a story that has been told and retold through generation after generation of Ohio people; a story that will never grow old. Thus we see how the oldest College west of the Allegheny Mountains came into being, and how the Fathers of that College struggled that it might be founded on the soundest of educational principles.

Now we see their fondest dreams come true—a truly democratic school, with the Freedom of Life that is so essential in the building of human thought and human character.

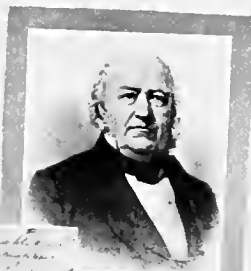

FROM the days of Honorable Edward Tiffin, first Governor of the State of Ohio, to the present time, in the administration of Honorable Vic Donahey, Ohio's present Governor, Ohio University has had a most colorful development. In the following pages it has been the aim of the builders of this volume of the Athena, to present a truly pictorial history of that development.

The Athena

O portray with originality and accuracy the college year, to conform to the rules of college annual production, to pass the faculty censorship—throw this on a background of financial limitations and you have the task of a college annual editor and business manager. The campus will be the judge of the first; the second will desolve upon college yearbook experts, and if we didn't succeed in the third we'll hear about it soon enough. As for the background, a harassing business manager has already seen to that.

This year for the first time, the Junior class has published the Athena, the University yearbook. Since the first book appeared, in 1892, the Athena has become a college tradition, and each successive publication has served to strengthen Ohio traditions, and has shown a growth and betterment adequate to the needs of an institution which has grown from a small school to one of university standards.

In this volume, the Athena of '28, the staff has attempted to portray the Spirit of Freedom in the life and activities of Ohio University. You will realize as you look upon the art in this book that in our portrayal we have symbolized this spirit of Freedom by use of the Viking motif.

The Athena

N an effort to make this year's book indeed "bigger and better," many entirely new features have been added. Outstanding among these is the twenty-four page feature section. Here we have attempted to picture the growth of the university from the time of its founding in 1804, through the activities of 1928 on the present campus.

Contrary to the average run of yearbook staffs we have not encountered the ill-fated trials and tribulations; it has not been extremely difficult to build this Athena; we have not made the great sacrifices so often referred to in the editor's write-ups; we have done nothing unusual in building this book. When we accepted the responsibility we were obligated to build a representative annual for the Student Body of Ohio University and we hope the confidence placed in the staff has been justified. If, through any error or omission your ire is aroused, we hope you will remember that we are unfortunately only human, and not infallible.

However, even as the 1928 Athena appears on the campus, the 1929 staff commences its labors. So transient is college glory. Yet we close, not grudgingly with—The King is dead; long live the King.

The Green and White

HE Green and White, the official news publication of the University, is entirely a student project, being managed, written and edited by students, thus affording a field of training for prospective journalists, as well as others interested in journalism. The Campus Affairs Committee, composed of students and faculty members, supervises the paper, but its policy remains in the hands of the editor and business manager.

In spite of the customary difficulties of a college newspaper, the Green and White has enjoyed a prosperous year. Its columns, in addition to providing news of this campus and other American campuses, have been a medium for student articulation on the several perplexing campus problems which have arisen.

To make an interesting, readable, live publication, has been the purpose of this year's staff. Such a thing is difficult for a student publication. Yet this year's staff has succeeded in editing a paper interesting and informing to the undergraduate as well as to the alumni.

During the past year the editorial department has been under the supervision of Edward Martin, while Lewis Terven has handled the business department.

The Green and White

ONDAY and Wednesday of each week finds the Green and White Staff meeting to receive assignments. The duties of the reporters have consisted of interviewing, feature writing, and hunting down the varied news tips which abound on an active university campus.

The staff members are: News editors, Pauline Swanson and Virgene Brill; Art editor, Ralph Kircher; Club editor, Marcia Scott; Society editor, Helene Gent; Special writer, Virginia Riddle; Feature writers, Paul L. Bures, Lorna Rudolph, and Ralph Kircher; Exchange editor, Fay Corwin. The athletics are written by Robert Marriott and Everett Oaks. The reporters are: Mildred Abersold, Charles Etsinger, Lucille Van Lehn, Georgianna McRoberts, and Lewis Young.

Those people working with Lewis Terven on the business staff are: Floyd Williams, Hugh Clifton, Darrell Grove, Robert Pierce, Walter Begland, Thomas Grimes, William Thomas, and Virgene Brill taking care of the advertising; Robert Sellers, Robert Linton, Roger Eikenberry, and Arthur Cornwell in the circulation department.

The Green Goat

HE policy of the 1928 Green Goat is to furnish humor, laughs, and to be the side-show of Ohio University. It is the constant ambition of the staff to put out a comic magazine that is worthy of the University, and one that will please the campus. This is a harder proposition than might at first appear, as those two interests do not go hand-in-hand. However, the magazine is a success in its endeavors to please both, and Billy of 1928 is well worthy of his long line of Past Billys.

The Editorial policy of the Goat has been free and easy. It has an ever changing policy depending upon the problems at hand, and upon the ease with which these problems can be converted into wise cracks.

During the course of the year the following numbers have appeared: Registration Number, Prohibition Number (very wet), Exchange Number, Travel Number, Dumb Number, and Grand Finale Number. This is the first year that six issues have been published, and marks an increase in size from thirty-two to thirty-six pages.

Large editorial and art staffs are maintained and contrary to past practise, and general belief, all of the staff members hold positions because of ability and industry.

The Green Goat

HE business staff is equally well equipped. This year's Goat contained advertising of higher quality than any of its predecessors, all of which was due to the un-failing efforts of the business staff. This group was also able to pester more advertising out of Athens business men than any in the past which speaks well for their ability.

Those on the Editorial staff are: Pat O'Malley, Felix Horwatt, R. Van Garrison, Robert Marriott, Art Bittel, Ed Martin, Bob Richards, Lewis Young, L. E. Potts.

Art staff: Ned Wakely, R. V. Garrison, Virginia Paul, Jean Younglove, Charlotte Kentner, Boyd Zeis, "Sea" Spring, Ernest Wiggs.

Circulation: Mary Goetz, Eileen Vorhees. Exchange: John Kucera. Publicity: Fay Corwin, Verle Kenny. Secretary: Kathleen Thomas.

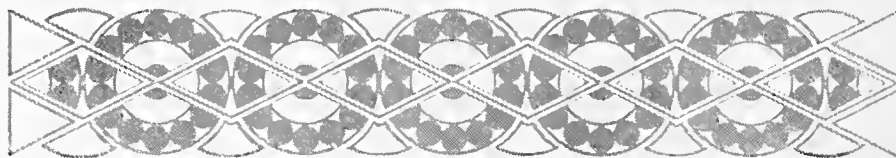

The Business staff: Perry Webb, Harold King, Nelson Kellenberger, Russell Unkrich, Jack Morris.

The Grand Finale Number of May 23rd ends the Green Goat for 1928. If the improvement continues into next year we are anxious to see Billy of 1929.

The 'O' Book

OUR 'O' Book contains the rules that govern the conduct of the errant Freshman. In this book are the yells, songs, and rules for behavior of the first year men. It also contains a list of the fraternities and sororities, their location, and officers. The important boards and committees are given in detail in the book.

A brief history of the college, a resume of school life at Ohio University, and letters of greetings from the President Bryan and Dean Voigt are high-lights of the book. In the front of the book is the school calendar, giving the recesses and important dates that affect the students.

The staff for 1927-28: Editor-in-chief, Paul Bures; Ass't Editors, Bob Richards, Beulah McCray, Robert Young; Business Manager, Thomas Wood.

The Y. M. C. A., the Men's Union, the Y. W. C. A., and the Women's League join in the publishing of the book.

The book is so arranged that if each little Freshman reads it carefully and follows the rules made by upper-classmen he will be able to avoid a "ducking" ceremony, held especially for his benefit.

STUDENT AFFAIRS

Campus Affairs Committee

HE Campus Affairs Committee was organized as such three years ago as a part of the plan to make the government at Ohio University more perfectly co-operative, and to make the direction of the extra-curricular life one of more perfect co-operation between the faculty and students.

This committee is composed of twelve members; six of whom are faculty members, and six of whom are students, the faculty members constituting the faculty social committee. The student members are: the President of the Men's Union; the President of the Women's League; the Editor of the Green and White; and the President of the Women's Athletic Association. This group of ten select two representative students to complete the group at the first meeting of each year.

The committee takes under advisement and makes final recommendations on all matters pertaining to the joint social life of Ohio men and women. It also selects the editors and business managers of the three campus-wide publications. Its whole aim is to produce a normal co-operative relationship among members of the University Community to the end that there shall be both individual and mutual responsibility for the high standards in the extra-curricular life of Ohio University.

Men's Union

IN 1922, twenty-five campus representatives in co-operation with President Bryan, organized the Men's Union of Ohio University. This committee, after a careful study of social institutions at other colleges, drew up a constitution and set of by-laws for a men's club on the campus. These were presented to the men of the University. They were accepted and the Men's Union was organized. Officers were elected, and for the first time the men of Ohio University were united in a functioning body.

Soon after its founding, the organization took up its headquarters in a three-story building opposite the North Entrance of the Campus. This was purchased by the University and presented to the club. Thus the Men's Union Building came into being. It is admirably suited to its purpose and very well equipped. In it are reading and recreation rooms, a large ball room, a room used as headquarters by "Torch," honorary fraternity, and meeting rooms available for the use of men's organizations. The basement is occupied by the offices of three campus publications. Officers of the Union reside in the apartments on the third floor.

The recreation rooms of the Union offer a pleasant place for the University men to spend their leisure time. Every male student who enters Ohio University automatically becomes a member of the Men's Union and is urged to take advantage of its pleasant surroundings. No effort is spared to make the club a vital and attractive part in the campus life of the men of Ohio University.

Campus Activities Advisory Board

THE Campus Activities Advisory Board was organized as one of the supervisory committees of the Men's Union. Its purpose is to oversee all student activities not taken care of by other Men's Union boards. Its chief function is the compilation of statistical information used in determining the award of Men's Union scholarships. The board takes charge in conducting the Sophomore and Junior elections.

The success of the fraternity and sorority floats parade at Homecoming was due to the efforts of this board in co-operation with the Alumni Secretary. The parade proved such an enjoyable feature of the Homecoming program that it will probably develop into a regular and traditional event of the day.

Five student members make up this board, of which three are Seniors and two are Juniors. They are elected by the students in the Spring election of Men's Union officers.

Junior-Senior Governing Board

HE Junior Senior governing board of Ohio University was organized as one of the supervisory committees of the Men's Union. Its main purpose is the enforcement and administration of student government regulations. The board organizes the Vigilance Committee which enforces Freshman rules, selects, purchases, and distributes the Freshman class hats, and conducts the election of officers for the Freshman class.

At this year's Homecoming, the Governing Board took part in the arrangement of the program. Its efforts were responsible for the Freshman-Sophomore sack rush which was a great success. A large number of students and returned grads watched the fight which was won by the freshmen. So much enthusiasm was shown over this year's battle that it is probable that the sack rush will become an annual event as part of the Homecoming program.

The membership of the Board consists of five Seniors and three Juniors. The Vice-President of the Men's Union acts as chairman ex-officio. Officers of the Board are elected each spring at the same time as the officers of the Men's Union.

Social Activities Advisory Board

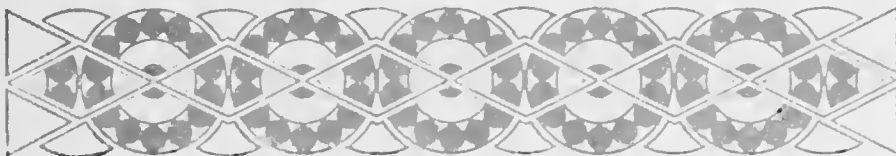

HE Social Activities Advisory Board is one of the three supervisory committees of the Men's Union. It is composed of five student members who are elected in the spring elections. The purpose of the board is to organize and sponsor social activities among the students.

The Freshman Smoker, which is given early each college year, serves to make the first year men feel at home and helps them to get acquainted with each other. It is held at the Union. In a haze of blue smoke the meeting is held in an informal manner with the boys sprawled comfortably around on the floor. Short talks by Dr. Bryan, athletic directors, and student leaders, feature the evening's program.

The Varsity Hops and Registration Dances are given to liven up the social atmosphere when other activities are at low ebb. They are held in the ball-room of the Men's Union which has the best floor of any ball-room in Athens. Good orchestras are engaged and the dances are always very enjoyable.

In its social program the Board attempts to furnish all the entertainment possible for the student body. It upholds the policy of the Men's Union which seeks to increase the pleasure and enjoyment of campus life at Ohio University.

Women's League

HE Women's League of Ohio University was organized in 1913 and includes all of the girls in school. The activities of the League are campus-wide, and consists of the Big Sister Movement, Varsity Hops, The Mother's Day Program, and the Skit Show. Uniting with the Y. W. C. A. such activities are sponsored as monthly mass meetings, a system of house government, and the Annual Lantern Parade.

RELIGION

REVEREND LUDWIG

Inter-Church Student Council

RELIGION is not one more task. It is the Spirit in which we do all our tasks. By worship, instruction, and expressional interests, the Ohio University Pastorate seeks to promote right motives for student conduct, and by the development of Christian personality to foster creative living.

Fellowship is exemplified in the Inter-Church Student Council where student representatives from the various churches of Athens plan a co-operative program. The five co-operating churches are: the Baptist, Christian, Methodist Episcopal, and Presbyterian.

The Bethany Council

HE Bethany Council of the Christian Church was formed originally to act as a connecting link between the Ohio University class and the Christian Endeavor Society. Its primary aim now is, however, to serve as a medium between the Church and the student body. This goal, by no means insignificant, has now been reached.

The Council meets every two weeks on Tuesday nights at East Wing. Reverend Ludwig, Student Pastor and Professor E. A. Hanson, teacher of the Ohio University Class have been instrumental in carrying on the work of the organization.

Wesley Foundation Council

THE year 1927-1928 has seen the reorganization and enlargement of the Wesley Foundation Council. The Council aims to include in its program, activities sufficiently many and varied to appeal to the interest of all students, and through its program to minister to the religious needs of all students.

The present program includes three student classes in the Bible School, Student Vesper Service, the Wesley Choir, the Home Hour and Fellowship Supper, the Orchestra, Friday parties, Wesley Players' Club, International Fellowship, and Departments of Social Service.

Westminster Council

IN the spring of 1925 the Westminster Council was organized that students might contribute to the program for young people in the church. It is the aim of the Council to discover the religious problems and interests of the students; to meet these problems and interests through instruction, worship and discussion; to secure faculty members as teachers and speakers on contemporary religious thought; and to promote a congenial social life, which finds expression in such activities of the Council as the Sunday afternoon home hour, the annual banquet, parties, and supper hikes.

The work and activities of the Council are under the direction of Reverend Wilcox, Pastor of the Church, assisted by Reverend Ludwig, Student Pastor

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet

HE Y. W. C. A. Cabinet is a Christian organization which has as its objective: "We unite in the determination to live Jesus' law of love unreservedly, in every relationship, and so to know God." The association has not approximated this objective; but it has offered, to the women of the campus, an opportunity for real Christian service and worship.

In sponsoring the Uniform Sunday School Program, in which girls are sent each week into eight mining communities to carry out Sunday School programs, the Cabinet has made more vital the principals of human brotherhood. As an association it points towards a search for the deeper meanings of life for every student.

In addition to assisting the Cabinet in the university "Y. W." work, the Sub-cabinet enters into a course of study which is a training course for Cabinet positions. This study is conducted by the vice-president of the Association, who, upon election to this position, automatically becomes president of the Sub-cabinet.

MUSIC

Men's Glee Club

WITH each year of its eighteen years existence, the Men's Glee Club of Ohio University has been taking a more prominent place in the musical life of the campus. It has merited state-wide attention, and has been advertising Ohio University especially since Dr. C. C. Robinson, came to fill the position of Director of the Music School in 1922. His leadership, and abilities as Director of the club has made it an organization of most noteworthy achievements.

Its taking of first place in the State Inter-collegiate Contest of 1924 and 1925, and of second place in 1926 have been notable successes. With the co-operation of a few members of the Department of Dramatics, the Glee Club made "Hello Happiness" an outstanding production rivalling those of professional organizations. It was due to their work on this production that the Club did not compete in the Inter-collegiate Contest this year.

The officers that have been responsible for most of the activities during the past year are: A. Kunkle King, President; Dave Todd, Business Manager and Accompanist; Thomas Slater, Assistant Business Manager; Joe Dando, Assistant Business Manager; and Professor Clinton Mackinnon, Treasurer.

Women's Glee Club

HE women's Glee Club of Ohio University in the many years of its existence has been admirably fulfilling its purpose of instilling a true appreciation of higher musical values as well as cultivating the voices of the members, and their ability to sing as a group. Membership in this limited organization is based upon quality of voice and ability to read and understand music.

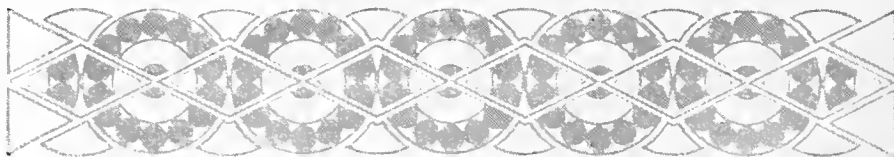

As a member of the Ohio State Inter-collegiate Association, the Club has participated in contests with the Women's Glee Clubs of other universities for several years, journeying this year to Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, for the contest.

In addition to three concerts given during the year at home, and to a short program for the Baccalaureate Service, the Club broadcasted successfully from Station WAIU at Columbus, Ohio.

A large portion of the success of the Club during the last four years is directly due to the capable manner in which it has been directed by Mrs. Margaret Benedict, of the School of Music.

The officers that have guided the Club through the past year are: Ruth Brelsford, president; Martha Vellner, vice-president; Barbara Kantzer, Secretary; Helen Sweeney, Business Manager.

Male Quartette

HE Varsity Male Quartette has become a traditional musical organization on the campus. Composed of the best blending men's voices, chosen by trial, membership in it is considered a great honor. It is trained by Professor Robinson, Director of the School of Music, and presents a varied program of serious and comic numbers which add variety and seasoning to the programs of the Men's Glee Club.

This year the Quartette was extremely fortunate in being chosen from over a hundred applicants to be the guests of the Sante Fe Railroad as entertainers from Chicago to Los Angeles. They left Athens on March thirty-first and started on their tour from Chicago the morning of April second. After a series of ten concerts, one of which was in the immense new Scottish Rite Temple at Guthrie, Oklahoma, they arrived in Los Angeles.

The boys are all enthusiastic over their trip. Those who took the trip were, Bid Edmund, First Tenor; Ted Cowen, Second Tenor; Joe Dando, Baritone; Don Dowd, Bass; Dave Todd, Accompanist; Professor Robinson, Director and Manager.

Too much cannot be said for the Quartette for the valuable publicity that it has given Ohio University, and to Professor Robinson belongs the credit for training a group that is capable of such accomplishments. May this not be the last time that Ohio University may have such a representation.

University Chorus

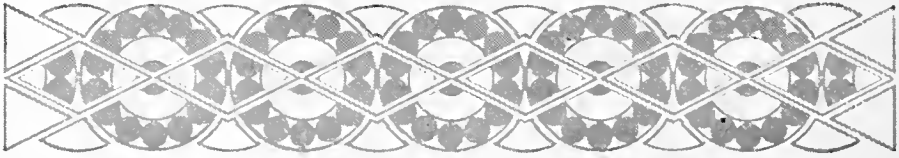

HE University Chorus is one of the most popular musical activities on the campus, affording the opportunity for students to participate in the rendition of standard oratorios and cantatas. Anyone interested in music and having any ability as a singer is eligible for membership.

The Chorus is under the direction of Professor Robinson and is accompanied by Mrs. Robinson. This year the chorus gave "A Tale of Old Japan," by S. Coleridge-Taylor in Convocation, and they are now working on Hiawatha's "Wedding Feast" by the same composer to be presented at Commencement.

The purpose of the organization is to foster and perpetuate interest in the works of the masters, and in keeping with this purpose present programs from time to time of the best choral music. The membership numbers about one hundred. It is proposed to increase the membership to two hundred for the dedication of the Memorial Auditorium next year, at which time an appropriate work will be offered.

Band

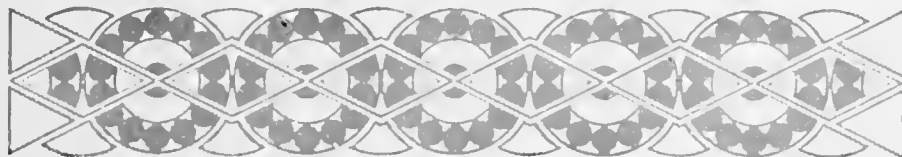

HE thump thump of the drum, the martial notes of the trumpets and the trombones, the soaring, piercing tones of the clarinets, and the deep sonorous tones of the basses; it is the band marching down the street. What would a football game be with-out the band? Crack goes the revolver and the half is ended. Ohio's Band forms and parades up and down the field, led by Ralph Zahour strutting his stuff. They stop and face the stands, and we hear the old familiar strains of Alma Mater float cross the field. No, we couldn't get along without the band.

This year the Band is larger than ever before, and has functioned oftener on the campus. During the football season they went with the team to Denison, and to Cincinnati. They have given several concerts during the year, and fulfilled a two nights' engagement at the Majestic Theatre.

The Band is under the direction of John W. Gill of Columbus, assisted by Lewis Terven, Student Director. Hilton Parkinson as President has done much to make the band a strong organization this year and the other officers have always been ready to assist him when necessary. Best of luck to them, may we have as good a band next year.

University Orchestra

HARMONIOUS blending of instrumental tones—those of the violins vibrating in smooth powerful crescendoes, of violas and 'cellos pulsating with rich melodious notes in the ensemble, clear piercing tones of the woodwinds rising and falling through the melody, sonorous tones in the brasses and deep reliefs from the percussion and string bass instruments—that was the university symphony orchestra in action.

Marvels that can be wrought in the way of musical endeavor by a symphony orchestra cannot be appreciated unless one has heard this year's organization, capably directed by Professor Deforest Ingerham, present, let us say, the Fifth Symphony of Beethoven, or one of the Mozart or Dvorak symphonies that the orchestra has rendered on numerous occasions with pronounced success.

The University Symphony is valuable, not only to the individuals who participate in its performances, but it fills a definite niche in the life of the campus. If we would have a fine University we must not slight any phase of development and music is an important phase of life. This Year's orchestra was the largest in the history of the school, numbering fifty-five members. In addition to appearing in several home concerts that were well received, the orchestra, as in the year before, enjoyed several trips in the spring, drawing the plaudits of appreciative audiences everywhere they performed.

The officers during the year were: Page Mead, President; Robert Young, Secretary; Alice Holmen, Treasurer; Robert Richards, Trip Manager; Willard Brugler, Manager.

FORUM AND STAGE

PROF. A. C. GUBITZ
Debate Coach

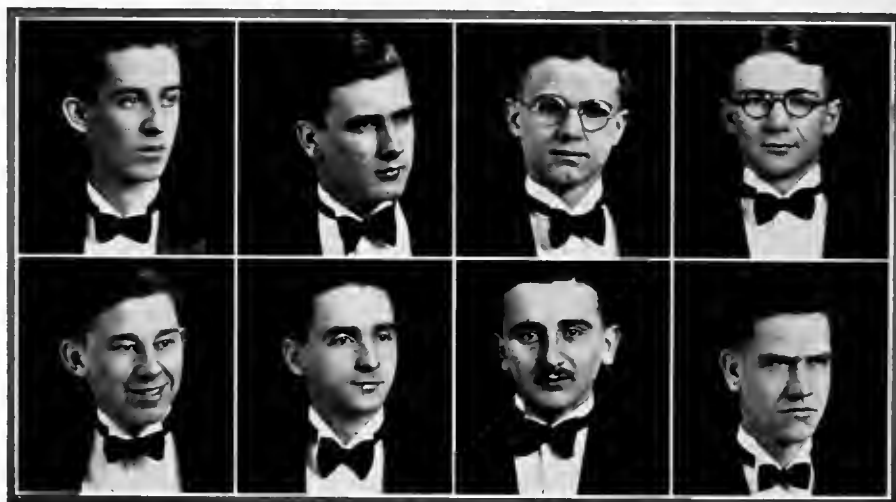

Debate

HIS year's Debate team, composed of Leo Owen, Everette Shimp, Sigmund Rosenblum, and John Undercoffer, affirmative, and Robert Hatch, Kenneth Coulter, Glenn Cole, and Lewis Young, negative, deserve much praise for the capable manner in which they have handled their several contests in spite of the handicaps which befell them throughout the year.

The season started with the difficulty of having to find a new coach, due to the illness of W. H. Cooper, regular debate coach. A man was found, however, that handled the job well, in the person of A. C. Gubitz, professor of Economics.

Yet with these handicaps the Ohio Squad has been conceded five out of six possible victories, and it is thought that with most of the men back again next year that Ohio will be represented by a banner team.

Phi Delta Gamma

VER striving to raise the standard of public speaking at Ohio University, Phi Delta Gamma has this year entered that field with the determination to put forensic activities on a higher plain than it has ever enjoyed before.

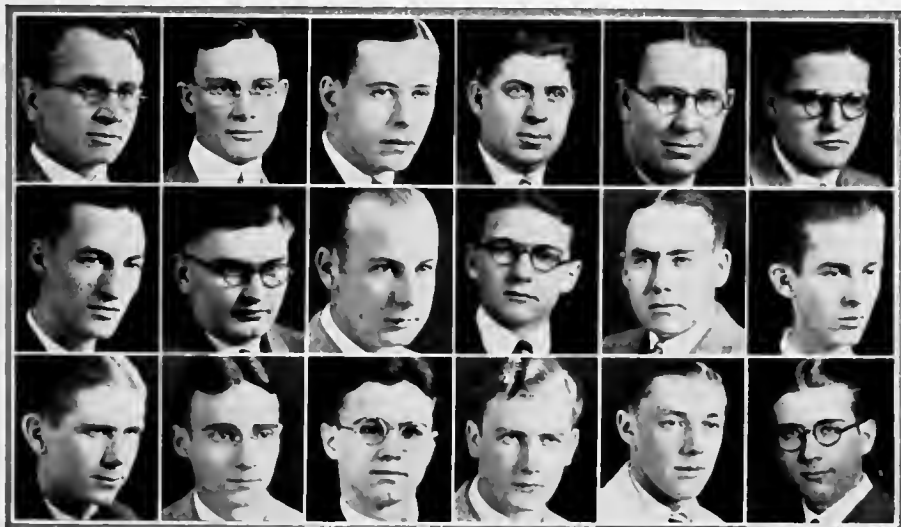

Many of the members are numbered among the University's most competent debaters, the others taking an active part in public speaking and forensic activities.

This year Phi Delta Gamma made an honest effort to sponser intra-mural debates, but due to a lack of interest on the part of the campus as a whole they were forced to drop it. It is hoped, however, that next year will show a revival of interest, and that each group will enter with a true desire to promote public speaking activities.

The following officers have guided the Chapter through the present school year: Gerald Wardell, president; George Luce, vice-president; Robert Bobenmyer, treasurer; and Raymond Horton, secretary.

Mr. Gilbert Beckler,
Business Manager of 1928 Athena,
Phi Delta Theta House,
Athens, Ohio.

Dear Sir:

I am returning to you the photographs of the contestants in your beauty contest and I must add that it was a very difficult task to select eight from among them. I only wish they might all have a place among the winners, as they rightly deserve, and I sincerely hope that the selections which I have made will prove satisfactory.

With all best wishes,

Sincerely,

Gilbert

"STEADY-40UR"

The Hot Box

AS at the close of day in every well-ordered print shop, the worn, used, rejected, erratic type is gathered together and consigned to The Hot Box to be melted down, so in this section of the ATHENA all of the defective, erratic and unfortunate acts of the school year are recorded for the delectation of the general public.

If your errors are overlooked, be thankful that not all of them have been discovered. If your feelings are outraged, we are sorry; and if they continue to be that way—well—as old Vergil was wont to remark

“Facilis descensus Averno!”

Idiotorial

ND now that you have leafed through the rest of this catalogue you come to the real section of the whole thing—namely, and to wit, THE HOT BOX humor section.

And now that you've laughed at everybody's picture in the book, we now offer you something worth while laughing at. In other words, this humor section is intended to be the prize in an old package of Zig-Zag, the one and only place where you're going to get your money's worth.

But to go on. We wish to announce the policy of the section. Our policy is: Expose the campus, the faculty, the publications, the what not for what they are, and to say at all times what we think, but be damn careful what we think. So there you are.

There's a lot more that we could say in this idiotorial. We could comment on luscious campus scandal, we could say what we think of the faculty, we could tell the fraternities and sororities what we think of them. But we refuse! We refuse to blacken our idiotorial page with anything that is not of a pure and upright nature. We're not that way.

But read on, read on!

The worst is yet to come.

My commission expires the day the Democrats control Athens County.

Sworn to be the truth and nothing but the truth the day this book is out—Ike and Mike.

Its Been a Dandy Year

N fact this is the biggest year that Ohio has had in four years—this being Leap Year.

Everything has been bigger and better. Our teams have been bigger flops, and our publications have been better grafts, and our political machines have been more domineering, so all in all its been a dandy year.

This article is supposed to be a comprehensive summary of our activities at dear old Ohio. I haven't the slightest idea who'll be interested in it as we are all pretty well acquainted with what has happened at our dear Alma Mater in this, the year of our Lord 1928. However, as I understand it there are several pages in this book that have to be filled with something besides the pictures of the local yokels so here tis.

For purposes of reading ease we present the activities under bold type, and listed alphabetically more or less, depending pretty much on the succession of letters in your personal alphabet.

FOOTBALL Naturally that would come first. It always has, and we haven't the originally to change it. Football and college have always been said in the same breath probably because in both sports holding is barred and fumbling is frowned upon. This was an usually successful year in football. The boys got out and fought hard for dear old Ohio. They played between 5 and 20 games, and there is a pretty substantial rumor about that they won one. That is probably newspaper talk, however.

BASKETBALL Let's pass over this lightly. The less said the better we'll feel about it. Sufficient to say: we beat Cincinnati! Cincinnati—the conqueror of Princeton, of Otterbein, of what not. And then to be Menchenese let us add that the next week Dennison beat us. Ha.

TRACK We know little or nothing about track. Since our athletic equipment does not include a pole with which to polevault or a shot with which to shot-put, we have forced to send our teams to other colleges where such luxuries are provided. However, from the results obtained it shows that we have no need of buying the aforesaid articles as we have no one who knows how to use them anyway.

BASEBALL There's a sport for you! With fully thirty people in the grandstand at each game, our Bobcats played a remarkable game of baseball this year, defeating the Freshman team on several occasions by at least one run.

That should suffice for athletics. For additional information we refer you to the Sears, Roebuck Catalogue. Let us now turn to the publications. The publications—caldrons of vice—the home of the political boss, and land of the Spree!

With two exceptions the positions of trust were all in the hands of Sigs and Tri Gams. The Sigs with Terven and Carsten as business managers, and as Marple with an editorship did their worst for our papers, and the Tri Gams with Martin, Kircher and Bures as editors did nothing to stop them. Beckley, the Hope of the Phi Deltis was allowed to take the business managership of the Athena, and Candy Woods was given the same position on the "O" Book to make it appear that there was really a chance to get on the staffs without being among the chosen few.

THE GREEN AND WHITE Ed Martin, the famous red-head, was the man who clipped the editorials from other papers, and was therefore known as editor. His editorial policy was: all the filth that's fit to print. Terven, of Sigma Pi extraction, was the business manager. He dressed exceptionally well for a Sigma Pi, but that could easily be explained. We mentioned that he was business manager of the Green and White, didn't we? Of course we cannot forget Bob Marriott the founder of Gallery Gas, the worst column, sport or otherwise, since the Sack of Rome. Here he aired his views on, which we very few, and not worth a tinker's dam at that. Believe me, they needed airing. Of striking foulness was the putrescent column commonly known as Burgundy and Bologna—which merely represented two more Tri Gams trying to be funny—and couldn't. More of it could be said of this publication, but none of it would look well in a book like this.

THE GREEN GOAT The humorous publication of Ohio University. Ha! Ha! The title was the only funny thing about it. Some individual by the name of Kircher was at the head of the thing in his sane moments. He, too, was a Carpenter Street nit-wit. It is reported that he used his share of the ill gotten gains to throw wild orgies in Columbus. Pete Carsten, God's Gift to the Sigma Pi's and innocent womanhood controlled the loot collected by the Goat. During the year the capitalization of his father's bank in Elmore jumped $25,000,000. Figure it out for your self. The Goat had only one good feature. It was uniform—uniformly bad.

THE ATHENA Marple, President of the Junior Class, Sigma Pi, and Grand Butter of the Royal Order of Billy Goats headed the editorial staff of this catalogue. He was the brains of the outfit—so judge for yourself. Beckley, the afore mentioned Phi Delt, was also on the staff in the capacity of business manager, which position he filled very competently—while sober. They say the Athena cost about $15,000 to put out. However, they don't mention how much of that is "beer money" with which to keep editor and business manager in a perpetual state of unconsciousness. There's a lot of other people who hang around the Athena office, but nobody knows them, so why mention!

THE "O" BOOK A mighty useful little publication. A little book that tells Freshmen what to do upon arrival at college, and which is placed in the hands of the Freshmen just before they are about ready to become Sophomores. Bures, editor; Candy Woods, business manager. The book was discontinued. Niff sed!

The New Ohio Creed

Note: We wish to thank Mr. H. L. Meckem of the American Mercury for the idea of the Creed.—Hot Box Editor.

There is a certain lot of sophistication a person can get at college that is not found in the books. There are a certain number of beliefs that are acquired if one stays about long enough, by everyone, and are universally accepted as truths. Some know all of them, but most just know some of them, and few know those about themselves. Therefore, in order to wise everybody up, the Hot Box editor presents the following list. It's a fact - that a Ford at school is better than a Pierce Arrow at home.

- that everybody hates the Betas.
- that the Scorpion has a reporter in every lodge.
- that the editor and business manager will need body-guards when the book comes out.
- that lessons and classes are unnecessary fixtures in college life.
- that it is impossible to live on the allowance sent from home.
- that the Lambda Chis hold a mortgage on the Tri-Sig house.
- that the new stadium will be ready for our grand-children.
- that they are still chiming for "chime money."
- that Bessie Bodle is the smallest girl.
- that Frances Hunter is the largest girl in school.
- that the Delts are glad to get rid of Bid Edmunds.
- that Mariana Bing is working toward a career as a professional beauty.
- that the ladder at the Alpha Gam house is unnecessary equipment.
- that Hell Week is a time when no girls cloths are safe.
- that Co-ed is an exclusive for knockouts, missouts, and passouts.
- that Fred Eibner is a campus celebrity.
- that Dunk King has made a helluva campus king.

In addition to this the Green Goat leaves the following legacy to the staff next year: one bottle capping machine, three old College Humors, one bad reputation, six damn good addresses, six cigar butts, two light bulbs that have never been used, one cushion, and one bottle opener.

Along with this we wish next year's staff all kinds of luck in their night work.

The Great and Near Great

ALLOW US TO INTRODUCE—

Raymond Horton and Lewis Terven—because as presidents of the Men's Union they have not developed into politicians.

Russ Marple—because he put out a high-rating Annual in spite of Beckley.

Beulah McCray—because she has made a good W. A. A. president in spite of the fact that she is not a "buxum lass" with the sturdy and unsightly underpinnings.

Pete McKinley—because he is a fighting Swede from Athens, and will lead the Bobcat legion next fall.

Lucille Van Lehn—because she has the nerve to try this dirty job next year.

Dutch Ludwig—because he was pugilistic enuff to plant his pin on Dot Shoemaker.

Irish Muldoon—because he fought to the bitter end at the Junior Prom.

Florence Coates and Don Dowd—for putting out the Athena while the editor and business were spending time across the river.

Red Martin—because as author of one or two of the Green and White editorials he has amused us greatly, and has never failed to express his side of the case aptly, if not well.

Lawrence Jarvie—because he went home to see the wife while the Phi Kap boys kept bar at the weekly house parties.

To the Non-fraternity men—for keeping the campus safe for democracy.

The University Officials—because they furnish the publication boys (and girls, now) a place to hold mid-nite dates.

Gilbert Beckley—because he put out a high-rating Annual in spite of Marple.

Cresset—because they have an undaunted spirit to strengthen W. C. T. U. on the campus.

The Campus as a Whole—because they are fool enuff to buy this book.

Beckley's Haberdashery—because they sold five suits immediately after the Junior Prom. to Boach, Betts, Zahour, Beckley, and Marple.

Yourself, Dear Reader—because you have read this trash.

Encyclopedia Ohioian

HE following definitions of important people, places, and things have been extracted from the Encyclopedia Ohioian for the edification of the student body in general and freshmen in particular

A—a letter rumored to designate a grade in the University. After three years of continuous, if not congenial, investigation of the subject, we report that said grade is more precious than rubies, and more rare than pre-war stuff

ATHLETIC MAJORS—boys who study coaching for four years and then become drug clerks, college professors, traveling salesmen, advertising solicitors, or automobile mechanics.

ATHLETICS—"there is no greater glory for a man in all his life to win his own hands and feet." Yes, dear, this is college.

HOWARD—a feminine Leavenworth in regions to the south. You can have more fun and excitement at McBee's Bindery.

BETA THETA PI—a boy's home, very respectable according to Burd's Manual, edited by William Raymond Baird, a Beta.

BIBLE SCHOOL—headquarters for the local Gantry Club.

CHAPERON—ideal and permanent occupation for blind, deaf, dumb, and infirm ladies.

BOYD—a feminine Leavenworth in regions to the south. You can have more fun and excitement at McBee's Bindery.

CROSS-COUNTRY—a trackmen's fall foolishness.

DEBATERS—the most degenerate speakers in school. If your a helluva speaker—go out for debate.

ENGINEERS—the boys who spend the warm afternoons inspecting the co-ed's knees with transits.

F—a consonant which does not mean funny. Any instructor will gladly give you one, and if enough are accepted at the same time the letter stands for freedom.

FAMILY—a popular sociology course, usually taught by a bachelor.

FRATS—gangs in houses, sources of revenue for cleaning and pressing brigands, and God's gift to the jewelry dealers.

SCORPION—local grip sheet, speedily becoming defunct.

Encyclopedia Ohioian

REVELERS—We will give two good unused season tickets for the first piece of chewing gum brought to the office.

TINK'S BAND—Organization of the world's worst musicians outside of Paul Whiteman's Band.

LINDLEY HALL—Someone has said that all women are divided into two classes: those that people look at when you take them out, and those that cause people to look at you when you take them out. Lindley Hall girl's are of the latter classification.

ROOMMATE—Confidante, clothing store, fiscal agent and libidity.

THE ANNEX BOYS—A hazing club which believes that the height of manly effort is embracing the posts in Boyd Hall Annex.

SENIOR—The faculty makes decree that the pure of heart shall be set aside by the mystic sign, A. B.

MEN'S UNION—A slum political ward Terven is boss, succeeding Horton.

ZETA TAU ALPHA—Yes, dearie, but we are SO good in the south.

ATHENA ADVERTISERS—People who pay money to have their name in "America's Finest College Annual"—purely as a donation, according to them.

BUSINESS MANAGER—The guy who writes you letters for overdue accounts and is always bothering you to buy a book.

THE EDITOR—The goof who always misspells your name, distorts your image in the book, acts busy all the time, and does nothing.

HOT BOX EDITOR—That unknown personage who sees all, knows all, and tells all. The man who is the reason why the editor must keep a body-guard for a month after the book is out.

ATHENA—The annual chronicle of crime, with chromos of the criminals, every body wants, but nobody wants to pay for it.

Encyclopedia Ohioian

FRATERNITY—I owe, you owe, he owes, we owe, you owe, they owe.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON—"Yes, we are really going to build that new house.

SOPHOMORES—Morons who are over-looked in the freshman flunkings. They take themselves, their house their studies very seriously, yes very serious.

SORORITIES—A knife-throwing outfit where good girls become snobs.

BOYD—A little Sing Sing on Park Place. She'll be disappointed if you don't bring cigarettes.

SUGAR CREEK—Where a lot comes from.

WORK—What most students, especially the Pi Phis, come to school to avoid.

ZERO—Temperature of the girl whose date took her to the Majestic the night of the Junior Prom.

RHO MU PHI—Ohio agents for the Money Trusts.

Tillies Notebook

The simple trusting faith of the Chi Omega house-mother is refreshing in the midst of all this sophistication.

We are searching for the missing link—the man who can devise a satisfactory fraternity menu.

Did you know that aspirin tablets and bromo-seltzers are bad for the health? Soon it will be necessary to get a prescription in order to get either.

A girl at the Pi Kap house has learned that in this old-fashioned school it is necessary to wear stockings when on dates.

It is interesting, but true, that any facts printed about you in this section came either from your room-mate or your best friends.

The Pi Phis celebrated their noteworthy achievement—yes with note.

It's disgusting.

The Ten Best Farces of the Year

1. Rushing rules (men and women)
2. Majestic Theater Vodeville.
3. The Comedians (Edmunds included)
4. The Old Whig Party.
5. Men's Union Hops (with rake-offs)
6. The Senior Dance (there wasn't any)
7. Outward Bound (they were bound)
8. The new Beta House.
9. The Tri-Gam formal
10. The Faculty.

People We Love— to Hate—

Profs who give quizzes the day after holidays.

The fellow who beats you to the last booth at the Bettie Shop.

Profs who give quizzes.

The girls' who call my fraternity brothers "smart."

The girl who talks of her date of the NITE BEFORE.

The Alumni who speaks of school when HE was in school.

The important cuss who struts around with a senior cane.

The girl who has a pin for every day in the week.

We Have at Our School—

The GREEN GOAT, according to its perpetrators, is a humorous magazine. It bubbles over with subtle irony and brilliant wit on every page. We offer here a typical example of their humor:

Grandma: "Ollie, go to the Spot and get a cold ham."

Little Ollie: Yes, Grandma "

W. A. A

We quote three cardinal principals of our own Women's Athletic Association:

1. Avoid the one piece bathing suit. It will either make you or break you

2. Don't say prunes, pears, or soup, because it puts the mouth in a kissable positions.

3. Don't stay out after ten thirty; then you will have no fond recollections when you grow up.

We Suggest:

1. That most girls' come to school to get married.

2. The Phi Dels from sister chapters will not go near the local Phi Delt stables.

3. That all other colleges offer their athletes soft jobs to get them to attend

4. That the accounting department is controlled by the Sigs who spend half their time working for the fraternity.

5. That most Ohio girls' can out do the men smoking.

6. That any girl who dates Jack Boach is not above reproach

7. That if a girl keeps hinting to a Phi Kap he will propose.

8. That most late dates are for no good purpose.

9. That if the boys at Palmer Hall were to dine at the Lambda Chi House they would eat noisily and spill hash on the other diners

Our Politicians

WHY not be a politician? The thing is of course very easy, if you are fortunate enuff to find out how it is done. Want to be a big man on the campus. Be a success in a week. Be popular. And how—by applying the formula compiled by a number of the best politicians on this ol' campus of ours. We present it in hope that it will aid in the growth of more and more of that group—our politicians.

Practice the little exercises written below (in public, of course) for twenty-four hours each day, each week, each month, each year, for three years and you can automatically become Men's Union President or official dog-catcher (either job is about as good).

1. Speak to every body (Whigs or Toupees).
2. Dance with all dumb-doras at Varsity Inn.
3. Go to chapel regularly (some may think you mean it).
4. Have a slogan (Keep the campus safe for democracy).
5. Have 3,000 posters printed (vote for the party).
6. Work your way thru school (on school publications).
7. Join anything, if you can (they all do it).
8. Praise everybody for nothing (its making friends).
9. Denounce secret fraternities (but join them).
10. Get acquainted with BETTIE (costly but sweet).
11. Be a debater (some Phi Delta Gammas speak).
12. Wear spats (the Delts do).

Pledge your vote and support anyone who can specify to the above qualifications. If you can, you'll win, and it's good to be with a winner, if you're not particular.

And This in Conclusion

The 1928 Athena is a Volume of History

HIS book is not the work of one or two individuals, but the result of efforts and co-operation of many. The work of Lamborn's Studio, Indianapolis Engraving Company, and The Ohio Service Printing Company, Lorain, Ohio, can be judged by their finished products.

Our advertisers have generously aided in making this volume a success.

But, most of all—those members of the staff who have temporarily cast aside their cloak of inconsistency—and labored in an effort to make the 1928 Athena a success—to all these, we are thankful.

We have built this volume, not only according to our own tastes, but trying to as near as possible, please the entire student body.

Success or failure of our efforts depends much upon individual judgment.

Form your own opinions.

WHY THEY RATE

1. Because a necking party no longer means a lynching.
2. Because the shades of the A. X. D. House have long been a campus watch-word.
3. Because of their undying efforts to gain recognition.
4. Because Barnum was right.
5. Their freshmen have been the cause of the recent fluctuation in the University Love Market.

THE COVER OF THE ATHENA IS SMITHCRAFTED - - -

The most unusual covers on annuals this year were furnished by the S. K. SMITH COMPANY. The cover of the Illio of Illinois, the Arbutus of Indiana, the Chinook of Washington, the Tyee of Washington, the Gopher of Minnesota, the Cornhusker of Nebraska, the Dandelion of Texas, the Owl of Pittsburg, the Bomb of Iowa, the Jayhawker of Kansas, the Makio of Ohio, the Beaver of Oregon, and there are hundreds of others too numerous to mention that are examples of the workmanship of this organization.

Send us your cover problems and we shall be glad to suggest a solution to them with no obligation on your part.
